

ADMINISTRATION MAY MAKE KNOWN BONUS PLAN TODAY

President Harding and Secretary Mellon Discuss Question—Congressmen Suggest Two Plans—Senator Borah Says Will Take $75,000,000,000 to Care for the Disabled

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The position of the administration as to how the funds for the soldiers' bonus should be raised may be made known to congress tomorrow. President Harding and Secretary Mellon had a conference today and were understood to have discussed the question. Two plans have been suggested by congressmen. One by Republicans of the house ways and means committee contemplating special taxes while under the other put forward by Chairman McCumber and Senator Smoot of Utah, ranking Republican on the finance committee, short time treasury notes or bonds would be issued during the time that the cash payments were made to the former service men.

HOPE FOR VOTE OF CON CON ON REVENUE ARTICLE

Delegates, However, Do Not Agree With the President

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 13.—A vote by the constitutional convention late tomorrow on the revenue article was in prospect, President Woodward said tonight as delegates returned for the week's session of the convention which begins tomorrow. Despite the president's optimism on early disposal of the revenue article, numerous delegates hope in accord with the Gale amendment, which would give the legislature almost unrestricted power over matters of state revenue and taxation, declared tonight that they believed consideration of the revenue article would consume all this week and part of next before the question is finally settled. Supporters of the Gale plan were in conference during the week-end recess and expressed hope tonight of mustering the required fifty-two votes for adoption by tomorrow night, for provision in the Gale proposal for a uniform income tax, if an income tax is to be levied is a matter of separate debate in the convention and is likely, opposing delegates said, to prolong a final roll call on the general section of the revenue article. The Gale plan gives the legislature authority to levy an income tax but exempts incomes of $2,000 and less.

MORTIMER RECALLS JANUARY GRAND JURY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 13.—State's Attorney Mortimer tonight recalled the January grand jury for next Wednesday asserting as he did so that it was for the purpose of clearing up an accumulation of criminal matters before he leaves for Waukegan, on March 6, to prosecute the conspiracy case against Governor Small. Mr. Mortimer emphasized that the recalling of the grand jury had nothing to do with the Small case or matters relating to it, declaring that he and his aides planned to go ahead with the prosecution of the governor next month despite rumors that the remaining indictments against Governor Small and Vernon Curtis would be nulled and new indictments sought.

UNCLE JOE SAYS HE WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE AGAIN

Will Retire After the Longest Term of Service on Record

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Having served longer than any man ever elected to the American congress, Representative Joseph G. Cannon of the 18th Illinois district, announced today that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself next fall. Mr. Cannon is approaching his eighty-sixth birthday. His life is spared until the end of his term of March 4, 1923, he will have rounded out 46 years of service in the house. He broke the record for actual service more than a year ago and since that time, as he has explained, he has been running along on velvet.

There were tears in the eyes of many of his colleagues when formal announcement of "Uncle Joe's" determination to retire was made on the floor by Representative Walsh, Republican, Massachusetts, described by the veteran legislator as "one of my buddies." While Mr. Walsh was speaking, Uncle Joe, sitting apart from his friends was crouched in a seat, a big slouch hat and overcoat protecting him from the cold. Believing always in brevity, Mr. Cannon's statement that he was soon to conclude his public service was put into one type-written line of eleven words. "Uncle Joe's" family, it is understood, has been urging him to quit congress and return to his old home at Danville, there to pass the rest of his life in peace and quiet. To a man long accustomed to battles in congress the former speaker at first rebelled, but finally he consented. While he still appears as vigorous as ten years ago, he is more feeble, his eyes more dim, and he seldom is seen as of old, biting constantly on the end of a cigar.

REVOLUTIONISTS GETTING READY

(By The Associated Press) EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 13.—The national revolutionary confederation at Mexico City of which Emilio Gandarilla is secretary-general, the object being the organization under one head of all revolutionary parties and the bringing about of the realization of the aspirations of the proletariat, according to circular letters received in El Paso today. The circulars are printed in red. "Those organizing the body intended to have their principles adopted to wit union of all revolutionary groups and elements, each conserving its own autonomy and realization of the aspirations of the proletariat, thru the establishment of economic, political and moral reforms which are demanded by a better social organization."

SNOW BLOCKS RAILROAD TRACKS

(By The Associated Press) DURANGO, Colo., Feb. 13.—A giant rotary plow backed by six engines battling thru snow in Cumbres Pass that towered to a height of more than six feet above the coaches today broke the way for the first train to reach Durango from the east since last Thursday night. The blockade was one of the worst of the winter. The Rio Grande southern road is blocked by numerous snow slides between Dolores and Ophir Loop. Yesterday's train tried to make Rico, but ran out of water for the engine and was stalled in the heavy snow a few miles from Rico. Aid has been sent from Dolores. A snow slide a mile wide is reported at Lead Head, thousands of tons of snow, logs and rock blocking the right of the Silverton still is isolated. Crews are working from both ends of a blocked area to clear the track.

COMPANY IS NOTIFIED OF PHONE RATE INCREASES

Official notification of the increase in telephone rates granted by the public utilities commission to the Illinois Telephone company has just been received by the company's officials. The rates are the same as published recently. It is probable that the change in rates will bring about a great many changes on the switchboard, as doubtless a large number of subscribers will wish to be placed on two, three or four party lines and thus secure the lower rates, while other subscribers will desire to be placed on individual lines.

DEMAND REDUCTION IN PERSONNEL OF ARMY TO 100,000

Will be Made When Army Appropriation Bill Comes Up

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Demand for a reduction in the size of the army of 100,000 enlisted men or even to a maximum of 75,000 will be made in the house when the annual army appropriation bill comes up for consideration members of a sub-committee which is drafting the measure predicted today. A formidable bloc of representatives the sub-committee members declared was preparing to wage a determined fight to limit the army's size to 75,000 men while others who favor reduction had indicated they would be satisfied if the maximum was fixed at 100,000. Other actions among the house membership were said to favor a 125,000 maximum, or to oppose any reduction in the present size which under a limitation for pay of enlisted men approximately 137,000.

War department estimates transmitted thru the budget bureau call for an appropriation for the fiscal year beginning July 1st, sufficient for the pay of 150,000 men and approximately 14,000 officers. Chairman Anthony of the sub-committee in charge of the bill announced today that three new estimates had been called for the war department to be computed on the basis of an army of 75,000 or 100,000 and 125,000 enlisted men.

COUNTY BOARD OUSTS WILSON FROM OFFICE

Shelby W. Robinson Commissioned by Governor Small

(By The Associated Press) SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 13.—Shelby W. Robinson was officially recognized tonight as Sheriff of Bond county, to succeed John Wilson, who was ousted by the county board as a result of Wilson's indictment for alleged complicity in connection with the $37,000 robbery of the Panama State Bank on December 12, 1921. The resolution ousting Wilson from office was adopted by the county board despite Wilson's withdrawal of his resignation. Robinson's commission as sheriff of Bond county, was forwarded to him at Greenville by Governor Small today. Although he declared that he was determined to remain in office until after his trial in April, the deposed sheriff was expected to relinquish the office to Robinson when the official commission reached Greenville, it was said here tonight. In issuing the ouster order the Bond county board took the position that Wilson's resignation was its property and that the sheriff had no authority to withdraw it after it had once been filed with the county clerk. Members of the board asserted that opinions of the supreme court in similar cases would sustain their action. In attempting to withdraw his resignation Wilson said he was acting upon advice of counsel.

CONGRESS WILL REDUCE UNITED STATES ARMY

That congress will reduce the United States army to 100,000 men is the opinion of United States Senator William B. McKinley, expressed in Springfield yesterday. The present strength of the army is 150,000. "This means that the 'army,' however, will number 113,000, including the officers," said Senator McKinley. "There are 13,000 officers in the army. This army is something like the Cuban army. There are half as many major generals as there are second lieutenants; and twice as many colonels as there are second lieutenants." Of course the senator was only joking, but at that he wasn't so far off from the statement of the facts in the case regarding the proportion of high officers of those of lower rank. "The soldiers' bonus bill will pass but how we will get the revenue to pay it, no one knows. There will probably be enacted a sales tax for this purpose, but it will not apply to retail sales, as many people think, but will be a tax imposed upon manufacturers only."

COMMITTEE IS UNABLE TO GET FORD'S PROMISE

Will Not Agree to Make Fertilizer During Lease

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Efforts of house military committee to exact a pledge for the manufacture of fertilizers during the 100-year life of the proposed contract by Henry Ford, for purchase and lease of the government's properties at Muscle Shoals, Ala., failed today. W. B. Burns, appearing before the committee as the personal representative of Mr. Ford declared the manufacturer was not willing to modify his offer in any of its existing provisions unless it was to clarify language only and not alter the plan itself.

Committee members also failed in their attempts during examination of Major J. H. Burns, chief of the ammunition division of the army, ordinance department, to adjust differences of opinion between ordinance offices and those in the judge advocate general's department with regard to the Warrior power plant. Major Burns insisted that the government was obligated to sell, that property to the Alabama Power company, or remove it from the grounds. He declared it could not be sold to Mr. Ford as a part of the government violated a contract with the company. Previously officers of the judge advocate general's department had said the contract was non-enforceable.

Statements by Major Burns that the Warrior plant was not essential to the Ford plan were countered later by Mr. Mayo who declared the power developed there was needed and Mr. Ford would demand a clear title to that unit as specified in his offer. This situation was regarded by several committee members as interposing a difficult obstruction to be overcome before they could return the Ford plan to the house for disposition by that body while others declared they could see no solution at all unless the contract with the company was violated. While the committee worked on the Ford offer at the capital Secretary Weeks continued to study at the war department of the other offers he has on Muscle Shoals.

He notified Frederick Engstrom of Wilmington, N. C., that he would give him a hearing Wednesday morning after which he would submit his offer to congress.

OPTIMISM IS APPARENT IN INDUSTRIES

Department of Commerce Issues Survey of Business

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Despite a further decline of business activity during December and January, there was a continued improvement in "fundamental conditions and a spirit of optimism prevails in practically every industry that augurs well for the future," according to a review of the national economic situation contained in the survey of current business, issued today by the department of commerce. Considerable progress has been made toward getting the country back to normal business notwithstanding a few reactions experienced during the past two months says the review.

Prices have remained relatively stable for the past six months the review continues and this is considered of fundamental importance for business recovery. Under a preliminary summary for January, the iron and steel industry is shown to be still without definite trend. The automobile industry showed the usual seasonal dullness during the month. The tire industry was more active. Grain and livestock showed some depression during the first week in January but has since shown a gradual improvement and purchase of corn for Russian relief has improved conditions in that market.

EX-GOV. YATES SPEAKER AT MICHIGAN BANQUET

Former Governor Richard Yates, who was chairman of the Lincoln Day meeting at the arsenal in Springfield Sunday night, hurried from Grand Rapids, Mich., to be present in Springfield. Mr. Yates was one of a group of speakers at the 30th annual banquet of the Lincoln Republican club in Grand Rapids.

The other speakers were Miss Alice Robertson, congresswoman from Oklahoma; Hon. A. J. Grobeck, governor of Michigan; Dr. E. E. Alfred Sze, minister of China. It is understood that ex-Governor Yates was largely responsible for securing the presence of General Pershing and Vice President Coolidge in Springfield, the invitation from the Midway club in Springfield being extended through him.

CONGRESS MAY SCRAP FIGURES OF CONFERENCE

Balk on Denby's Estimate For Expenses of Navy

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Secretary Denby in asking congress today for an appropriation of $350,000,000 for the navy next year, ran into the edge of a threatened fight by advocates of government economy "to scrap" the naval establishment ratio figure arranged at the arms conference. In a frank and detailed statement as to what the navy department hoped to accomplish, Mr. Denby told the house naval committee that his estimate called for a reduction of 10,000 in enlisted personnel, which was made possible only by putting about one hundred destroyers out of commission and by sharp cuts in shore station forces.

Chairman Butler indicated that the figures named by the secretary compared with an appropriation of $412,000,000 for the present fiscal year was high. In view of reductions authorized by the conference, it was brought in the discussion that some members of congress have been urging a naval appropriation bill carrying no more than $175,000,000 or $200,000,000, but Mr. Denby agreed with the view expressed by members of the committee that such a reduction would leave the United States actually below Great Britain and Japan, while leaving the tonnage ratio at five-five-three, as agreed to by the conference.

Believing that with a small fighting force the navy should be "kept on its toes," leaders standing behind Secretary Denby's estimate, declared to limit the appropriation under $200,000,000 would mean for the United States a navy really smaller than that of Japan.

BRITISH SEAMAN IS ADRIFT ON THE ATLANTIC OCEAN

Swept Overboard in Lifeboat During Big Storm

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Somewhere on the Atlantic about 500 miles from New York, if his luck has held—John Brickner, a British seaman, is bobbing about in a life boat, waiting for his sixth night in the hope of rescue. The story of his loss in a high gale and of a heartbreaking game of hide and seek, his little bark played with his would-be rescuers was brought to port today by Captain Walter Beckwith of the Steamship Gaffney.

The storm broke on the morning of Feb. 8 with a 110 mile wind which quickly lashed the sea into a fury. Brickner was sent with another seaman to make fast the life boats. Swinging on the out-turned davits, Brickner dropped into one of the boats to make fast a line when a huge wave swept the boat away. Captain Beckwith quickly turned the Gaffney about and began a struggle to get a line to the life boat, missing time after time by a few feet. The boat was lost once in a rain squall only to be discovered and lost again. Night fell and again the search.

LINCOLN EULOGIZED AS MARVELOUS MAN

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Abraham Lincoln was eulogized as a "marvelous man" by Representative Green, Republican of Iowa, in a prepared address to the house today. He declared that the Civil War president "never varied his policy, never changed a principle, never misjudged the needs of the hour and never so much as thought of shaping his course for his political interests."

Despite bitter and unfair criticism the people, Mr. Green said, had confidence in Lincoln's rugged honesty and his wonderful power of clear expression. "He was denounced as a tyrant and even ridiculed as an imbecile," said the speaker, adding that in spite of such attacks his memory today gives "the worker hope, the statesman courage and the patriot fortitude."

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

E. E. Crabtree will be in Springfield today as a member of the committee from the Illinois Bankers association, called to gether to confer with several members of the constitutional convention concerning some proposed revenue legislation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson of Sinclair were among the Monday shoppers in the city.

DOUGHBOY IS STILL SUPREME IN WARFARE ARMY OFFICERS SAY

Soldiers Who Fought in France Believe in the Age-Old Gospel of Cold Steel in War—Claim That It Cannot be Replaced by Machine—They Are Only Auxiliaries

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The "doughboy" with a bayonet still is the "basic combatant" unit in battle, is the virtually unanimous judgment of the American army officially decided in cold post-war analysis. Aircraft, tanks, bombs, machine guns and cannon merely are valuable auxiliaries for the infantryman in the bulk armed with rifle and bayonet and each foot soldier armed only by "his own agility" and a steel helmet. "For battle is normally determined by physical encounter with the bayonet or the fear thereof," the official conclusion of the army made public today asserts. It is based on answers to a widespread "questionnaire" sent recently thru the war department bureaus and thru corps and divisional areas even down to the commanders of regiments, to lay the ground work for the doctrines of tactics and of training on which post war building of the army shall proceed.

The answers were unmistakable. There has been no change. Soldiers who fought in France, believe in the age-old gospel of "cold steel," in war. The conclusion follows, "an exhaustive study of the influence that modern scientific developments will have upon the technique of warfare, especially with regard to aviation, motor transport and tanks."

Chiefs of all combat branches had their say on the questionnaire. As the research work goes on, tests will be made "to solve debatable questions." Among these is that of "the comparative value of bombing planes and fixed heavy guns in sea coast defenses."

"It is possible at this time," the statement added to announce the conclusion of the war resulting from the answer from the basic question as to whether there was substantial agreement. It was concluded and doctrines of tactics and of training will be based accordingly.

Man Still Supreme. "That man remains the fundamental instrument in battle and that as such cannot be replaced by any imaginable instrument short of one more perfect than the human body including the mind."

"That man fights with greatest freedom of action and with greatest efficiency when on foot not on horse back, in a tank, in an airplane, in a fixed fortification, etc., that to achieve decisive action he is best armed with the rifle and bayonet; that man is rendered least vulnerable when only clothed against the weather and armored by his own agility with steel helmet."

"That the infantry is the basic combatant arm upon whose success normally depends the success of the army; the primary duty of other arms when associated with infantry is to assist the infantry to achieve its mission by protecting and aiding it in every way and by destroying enemy resistance to its efforts."

"That no arm except infantry can be expected under normal conditions to destroy an approximately equal force of enemy infantry armed with rifle and bayonet."

"That while infantry is normally the basic arm of war under certain conditions or during certain phases, cavalry may replace it as the basic arm for example in operations against mounted forces or against foot troops whose efficiency is below normal for any reason."

FIRE DEPARTMENT KEPT ON THE RUN

The fire department was busy Sunday and Monday responding to three alarms. At 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon the department made a run to the residence of Miss Lucy Barr, 907 West State street. Sparks from a chimney had started a fire in the roof. The damage was slight. Monday morning at 10:45 o'clock the department responded to an alarm from the home of August Weidmeyer, 616 North Church street. This also was a roof fire. The department made a run to the same residence about a month ago.

At 11:45 o'clock Monday morning the department was called to the residence of John Farley, 229 West 10th street, where the roof was on fire. The damage was slight. All of the losses are fully covered by insurance.

WILL ASK FOR NO GENERAL INCREASE IN MINERS WAGES

Effort Will be Made to Retain Present Wage Scales

(By The Associated Press) INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 13.—No general increase of wages for soft coal miners but the retention of all efforts towards retaining present wage scales was the policy adopted today by the scale committee of the United Mine Workers for submission to the Union's special convention that begins tomorrow according to semi-official information received by convention delegates. The committee's report on wage demands to be sought as the basis of new agreements with operators, effective April 1, was adopted finally at a long afternoon session but committee members said they had agreed to withhold all information until the report was submitted. Despite the announcement of the committee which included the 27 district presidents, the report was understood to include no proposal of a strike, and likewise made no demand for adoption of the six hour day, five day week as proposed by the demands of 1919. The only comment on the possibility of a strike was that of international President John L. Lewis, who issued this formal statement: "The United Mine Workers do not desire a strike. We propose to do everything possible in a proper way to prevent such an occurrence. I feel sure when the convention has finished its task, the public will realize this fact."

NO ANSWER TO PLEA FOR CHURCH

(By The Associated Press) SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 13.—Plea to Governor Small to save Harvey W. Church from the gallows next Friday, remained unanswered tonight. Attorneys for Church were told that they need not expect any answer tonight. The board plans to hold hearings at the Joliet penitentiary tomorrow on applications for paroles.

"Holiness in Hollywood" is used in a city paper headline and suggests this is the greatest need of the movie world in California. Perhaps Will Hayes can accomplish something in that line in the Hollywood neighborhood.

Jacksonville certainly does nothing by halves these days. An effort was made to secure a big delegation for the Ocean to Ocean Highway meeting in Springfield Sunday. Many of the visitors were impressed with the fact that the majority of the people in the great assembly were there because of the presence of the American General, rather than of the vice-president of the United States.

Mr. Coolidge made a wonderful record as Governor of Massachusetts and is today accounted one of the big men of the nation, but he has not about him any of the glamor of the military. He is not classed in the ranks of the heroes.

Vice President Coolidge and General Pershing were the most important personages at the Lincoln day observance in Springfield Sunday. Many of the visitors were impressed with the fact that the majority of the people in the great assembly were there because of the presence of the American General, rather than of the vice-president of the United States.

Mr. Coolidge made a wonderful record as Governor of Massachusetts and is today accounted one of the big men of the nation, but he has not about him any of the glamor of the military. He is not classed in the ranks of the heroes.

The need for increase in the size of the city filtration plant is already near at hand. That means the expenditure of additional money and the city hasn't any surplus funds. Nevertheless it is a cause for congratulation that the demand for city water is increasing so rapidly that the supply of the filtered product must be increased. The demand has come merely because the water is pure. The city can find a way to meet any such expenditures.

THE SPENDING OF PUBLIC MONEY

The Indianapolis News says: At meetings of most official bodies—and many unofficial bodies—the principal subject nowadays seems to be the spending of public money, either thru an appropriation or a bond issue or both. Suggestions for the extension of civic betterments and even civic luxuries are made to commissions, boards, councils, etc., and are officially supplemented by their own members.

There is an urgent demand that taxes be reduced both in the way of appraisal and levy, and the taxing officials are not meeting with kindly treatment in their discussions with taxpayers. While some public expenses may be reduced as a result of the decrease in the price of labor and materials, many of them—such as salaries, interest on bonds, etc.—are fixed charges that can not be changed. On the other hand, property values have declined as a result of decreased prices, especially in the case of merchandise and farm products, in a way that will doubtless mean a decrease in the total of taxable values. If taxable values decrease and public expenses do not decrease, tax levies will have to be increased, and if public money is spent with any such prodigality as is every day proposed, public expenses certainly will not decrease.

No doubt many of the people who are demanding the lavish expenditure of public money are the same ones who are complaining of the amount of their taxes. They give no thought to the burden of public debt that they are advocating and seem to have no realization that they will have to pay that debt—but they will. There must be a sifting out. Some of the expenditures proposed are necessary, some are desirable and some are mere extravagances. The necessary expenditures should be made, the merely desirable ones should be postponed until taxes are lower, the debt margin broader and the public treasury fuller than now, and the extravagances should never be tolerated.

PUBLIC SALE.

LOCAL MAN CHAIRMAN IN RELIEF CAMPAIGN

Benjamin Cohen Named Local Chairman in Jewish Famine Relief Campaign—Facts About Russian Conditions.

Benjamin Cohen has been named as local chairman in the Jewish famine relief campaign. The conditions in Russia are almost beyond description and a country wide appeal is being made for funds to send supplies to the suffering people there.

Mr. Cohen and other members of the local organization will be glad to get in touch with persons willing to aid in this good cause. The following paragraphs, cabled to the Chicago Daily News by a special correspondent give some general facts about the Russian conditions.

"I made my first investigation of the Russian famine conditions in Moscow, where food was plentiful. In Simbirsk I found that only half the usual crops had been harvested in the course of the year. Later I passed thru the province of Samara, traveling 140 versts, (nearly eighty-seven miles) thru the country away from the railroad. The desolation of winter covered the steppes, and the villages were so scattered that I was almost lost in trying to locate one. I passed thru many miles of country where not even crows were left.

"In the villages I found many women and children dying. The people were lamenting because their supplies of oak leaves and wild-grass seeds for bread were almost gone. Bread made of clay and dung was being used. The population of one district had declined from 15,000 to 4,400. Since October 432 had died of hunger and 1,500 of dropsy. I found one village committee stealing foodstuffs sent for the children, and the offenders were promptly and publicly hanged.

"Can't Count the New Graves." "Proceeding to Busuluk I inquired of a grave-digger how many persons were buried daily.

"I cannot count them," he replied. "They come in carloads." "I saw a great pit heaped nearly to the top with naked dead. Near-by was a monster heap of unburied corpses, the collection of two days. All had been stripped of their clothes, which were needed by the living. The bodies were grotesquely distorted. Despairing folk creep to this cemetery to die and many fall dead in the streets of Busuluk. One dead woman lay in the street with dogs tearing at her body. Men fear these dogs. Desperately hungry, they have acquired a taste for human flesh.

"Thousands of abandoned children from the villages are brought into Busuluk, but most of them die within a few days. Many of these deaths and the consequent starvation, but the medical skill has largely collapsed. Some of the doctors have fled and others have broken down. One who died of typhus was buried today.

"The children are crawling skeletons and present an infinitely pathetic sight. One lad of 12 tried to step toward me collapsed flat upon his face from exhaustion. As I picked him up his skeleton body felt almost like a shadow.

"At one children's home of 141 children received in the course of last week, seventy died. The scenes and sounds in the babies' rescue home were especially horrible, despite the efforts of the kindly Russian women there. The howling of scores of dying infants still haunts me."

NOTICE

The public is invited to the Chamber of Commerce meeting tonight. The question of more houses for Jacksonville will be discussed.

HOUSING PROBLEM WILL BE DISCUSSED

Important meeting to be held by Chamber of Commerce Forum Tonight.

A meeting that has much to do with the future of Jacksonville will be held tonight in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 7:30 o'clock. The question under discussion is to be the Housing situation.

Several out-of-town speakers are on the program. S. R. Evans of Mattoon and Harry P. Jones of Springfield will be the principal speakers of the occasion.

Following the meeting, ice cream, cake, coffee and cigars will be served. Dr. Carl E. Black, president of the Forum will preside while the Chamber of Commerce Housing Committee will have charge of the meeting.

Some method must be devised to solve the housing shortage that is very acute in this city. It is estimated that if sufficient houses were available we could increase our present population by 1,200 people without the aid of another industry or factory. People are moving out of the city owing to the fact that they are unable to secure a house to live in.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting. There will be no charges or subscriptions asked.

AT AUTO INN

Dance will be given Feb. 14 by the members of the class and friends. The Dunlap orchestra has been engaged from 8 to 12 p. m., and a most interesting program is being arranged by Mrs. Lee Cunningham.

FROM NEWSPAPER CARTOONIST TO BROADWAY'S LEADING COMEDIAN

It's a far cry from the cartoon desk of a St. Louis newspaper to the electric lights of Broadway, yet that is the way that has been spanned by Don Barclay, one of the featured comedians in the Fanchon and Marco musical comedy production "Sun-Kist," which comes to the Grand for one night only, Thursday, Feb. 11th.

For two years Don Barclay had his name out in the electric lights on Broadway as principal comedian for Flo Ziegfeld's "Follies." He had then reached what might well be termed the "pinnacle of fame." Not alone in this country, but in Great Britain, did Don Barclay win his laurels. He was featured for 18 weeks at the London Hippodrome, and for 32 weeks at the London Palace, as well as having toured all over Great Britain in the biggest of English Revues. Barclay was also in the British production of "Her Soldier Boy," in which Clifton Crawford was featured in this country.

Barclay is a graduate into musical comedy from burlesque, for many seasons he was the mainstay of several of the more important shows of the Columbia circuit. It was from here that Flo Ziegfeld picked him for his "Follies" and the way Barclay made blaze Broadway sit up and take notice demonstrated to Ziegfeld the wisdom of his selection. Following his engagement on Broadway, Barclay was engaged as principal comedian with Nora Bayes in "Ladies First."

The housing situation will be discussed tonight in the Chamber of Commerce Forum. The public is cordially invited to attend.

WINCHESTER FUNERAL LARGELY ATTENDED

Impressive Services Held for Late Mrs. T. B. Smithson—Union Services Largely Attended—Other Winchester News.

Winchester, Feb. 13.—The funeral of the late Mrs. T. B. Smithson was conducted from the late home on North Main street at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The home was completely filled with relatives and friends of the deceased, who was one of the long time residents of the community.

The service was opened with a duet, "Asleep in Jesus," by Mrs. Gertrude Demerath and Miss Martha Higgins.

The scripture lesson was read by Rev. Mr. Conley of White Hall, who also offered prayer. After a duet, "I Need Thee Every Hour," the obituary sketch was read by Elder Murray, who also delivered the funeral sermon. The minister spoke in a feeling way of the life of the deceased, whom he had known thru a long period of years.

The closing song was "Nearer My God to Thee," and from the home the funeral cortege moved to the Gilliam cemetery northwest of town, where burial was made. The bearers were two grandsons of the deceased, Floyd and Russell Redshaw, W. B. Clark, James Edmonson, Claude Thomas and Arthur Bush.

The many beautiful floral tributes were cared for by Mrs. Claude Thomas, Mrs. W. B. Clark, Mrs. George Hogan and Miss Jeanette Taylor.

The Union Services.

The union services Sunday will long be remembered by those who attended. In the morning services were held at the individual churches and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon a mass meeting for men was held at the Methodist church. The large auditorium and parlors were filled with men, while the balcony and Sunday school room were occupied by the women and children. Music was furnished by a men's chorus and there were also numbers by a quartet including Albert and David Buckley, S. G. Smith and W. M. Gish. Dr. Violette's subject was "The Evolution of Peace" and he delivered a wonderful sermon. The large audience listened closely to the evangelist's words and great interest was apparent. It was the largest audience of men ever assembled in Winchester and the service was a most impressive one.

The subject of Dr. Violette's evening sermon was "Christ's Unanswered Prayer," his text being found in the 27th chapter of Matthew. Monday evening the theme was "The End of the World" (Matthew 24.) A musical feature of the service was a solo by Miss Louise Frost.

News Notes.

Luther Mason of Canton visited his mother Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Babb of Jacksonville spent Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Gibbs. Rev. Carl Corrie expects to return Tuesday night from Colorado where he was called by the illness and death of his father. Mrs. W. H. Kinson is confined to her home by illness.

Clothes

And the Man

—There's a big difference between a dolled-up dude and a well-dressed man.

—You can see the difference on the outside, but the big difference is on the inside.

—It's the same difference that distinguishes good clothes from clothes that merely attract attention by offending good taste.

—Good clothes, such as those built to the man by ALBERT RENNER, president of this company, have that enduring quality of workmanship in them that never wears out.

—Wear them every day and Sunday, too, if you want to. Wear them until they're frayed, if you will. But the longer you wear them, the better they hang, the better they feel on you, the better they FIT. They will always look like GOOD clothes.

But there's a special Providence that looks out for country cousins.

In the very fashion magazine they handed her to copy their dresses from was a wonderful article that was going to turn the village of Primpington upside down. It was called "The Love Charm." You know the kind—"show me the man and I'll show you how to win him!"

And so this little lady put the "charm" to work. Sakes alive! Maybe it didn't work! Just completely snared the leading young Primpington banker so that even a jazz party and a bunch of ancestors couldn't undo the charm!

ISSUES WARNING

"It has been brought to the attention of this office that persons who sell denatured alcohol at retail frequently advertise by means of signs, posters, etc., in or about their places of business, announcing that "alcohol" is for sale, without any qualifying words such as "denatured" or "completely denatured," in violation of Section 17, of the National Prohibition Act. It is charged that such retailers also frequently sell completely denatured alcohol without placing on the container thereof the cautionary "poison" label required by Article 108, of Regulations 61.

Inasmuch as such illegal practices menace the health and lives of persons who might be misled into believing that the alcohol is pure, it is desired that you will immediately warn proprietors of garages, paint shops and hardware stores, and other retail dealers in denatured alcohol generally, that parties guilty of such practices must immediately discontinue them, and that anyone failing to do so will be reported to the United States attorney for prosecution.

ALL IN READINESS FOR TRI-CITY DEBATE

Debate Will Be Held Wednesday Evening, February 15—Mock Debate to Be Held Wednesday Morning.

The annual Tri-City Debate, in which the high schools of Quincy, Springfield and Jacksonville participate, is to be held Wednesday evening, February 15th. The question for debate this year is: "Resolved, That Municipal Ownership and Control of Public Utilities is Desirable." Jacksonville's negative team goes to Springfield and Quincy's negative team comes to Jacksonville to meet the local affirmative team. The debate will be staged here at eight o'clock at the high school.

This is the last year of the contest for the possession of the loving cup which is to go to the city which comes out on top. The first year of the contest Jacksonville had the cup and the second year Springfield won it. The team that wins the cup this year may keep it and this fact attaches unusual interest to the word battle this year. The cup will go to the team that has had the largest number of judge's decisions during the last three years. The competition is very keen because each school still has the chance to possess the coveted cup.

Wednesday morning at the high school assembly the debating society will put on a mock debate for the purpose of getting up enthusiasm for the Tri-City event. The question for this mock affair is: "Resolved, That Chicken Feeding is O. K." The question in itself is of great interest to the high school students and will no doubt do all that is expected of it in advertising the more serious event of the evening.

The judges who have already been secured for the Tri-City debate are Assistant Principal Kirtz of the Bloomington high school, and Professor O. L. Manchester of Normal. The other judge is to be chosen from the faculty of one of the local colleges.

He Will Say

"Fight those film-coats on your teeth"

Leading dentists, nearly all the world over, now urge a new method of teeth cleaning. Millions of people already employ it. You see the results everywhere today, in whiter, cleaner teeth.

This is for those who don't know it as yet. We offer a ten-day test. You will then see the unique results and decide what they mean to you.

The war on film

One great object is to fight the film on teeth. You can feel it now—a viscous film. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. And it forms the basis for dingy, dangerous coats.

Ordinary tooth pastes do not effectively combat it. So millions of teeth brushed daily still discolor and decay.

Film absorbs stains, making white teeth cloudy. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Film constantly breeds germs. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film.

How to fight it daily

Dental science has now found two effective film combatants. Able authorities have proved them by many careful tests.

A new tooth paste has been perfected, to comply with five modern requirements. The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants are embodied in it.

Careful people of some forty races now employ it daily, largely by dental advice. You will also do so when you know how much it does.

Brings other effects

Pepsodent brings two other effects which authorities now desire.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits. They gum the teeth, get between the teeth, and often ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for acids which cause decay.

Thus every use gives multiplied power to these two great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth.

For beauty's sake

Film removal means prettier teeth. Film-coats make teeth dingy. So every lover of glistening teeth should combat that film daily.

The results will delight you and convince you. Present the coupon for the 10-Day Tube. Start its use tonight.

Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. The normal alkaline mouth, following every use, is most refreshing.

See and feel these results for ten days. Then look at your teeth in your mirror. Then you will know what this new method means to you and yours. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

10-DAY TUBE FREE

Present this coupon, with your name and address filled in, to the store named. It is good for a 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent.

Your Name.....

Address

Out-of-town residents should mail this coupon to The Pepsodent Company, 1104 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago, and the tube will be sent by mail. JOURNAL, Jacksonville, Ill.

Best Battery for Winter Use

COLD weather driving makes heavier demands upon any storage battery. Engines are stiff—oil is sluggish—gasoline vaporizes slowly—lights burn longer—and the severe cold tends to cause battery deterioration. Only a battery of maximum power and vitality can meet these demands.

The Frost-O-Lite Storage Battery has proven in the toughest of cold weather tests, to be by far the best for winter use.

Why be satisfied with anything short of the best? That's a Frost-O-Lite for every car.

FINE AUDIENCE HEARD CONCERT PROGRAM

Miss Tull and Mr. Ratcliffe Gave Charming Recital Monday Night at Music Hall.

A capacity house, enjoyed the well chosen program given last evening by Beulah Mae Tull, mezzo soprano and Clarence Ratcliffe, baritone, at the Illinois Woman's College.

The program opened by the following group: The Cradles, Faure, Ritsornelle, Chaminade, Were L. Gardner, Chaminade, which Miss Tull sang with much charm and musical expression.

After her second group in which the singer's clear diction was a source of great pleasure. Miss Tull responded with an encore to the hearty applause.

Mr. Ratcliffe has a voice of most sympathetic quality which he used to great advantage once he had overcome a slight nervousness.

His first group, consisting of Homer's "Banjo Song," "Blue Are Her Eyes" by Watt and "The Moon Behind the Cottonwood" by Cadman, were well received. In "The Sword of Ferrara" by Bulard, Mr. Ratcliffe revealed drama—feeling and good diction, and all thru his performance he showed those musicianship. Mr. Ratcliffe also responded to the audience's demand for an encore.

The two singers joined in the closing number, a song cycle "On Phelhem River" by Amy Woodforde-Tinden. In this there was a good blending of voices, excellent ensemble, as well as understanding of the text.

Miss Miller whose accompaniments were enjoyed, is to be congratulated on the results of her training in her two pupils, whose work gave much pleasure to a discriminating audience.

ILLINOIS TACKLES TOUGH FOE THURSDAY

Meets St. Viators in David Prince Gymnasium—Visitors Have Only Lost One Game in Conference.

Coach Harmon's Illinois college five tackles one of the toughest foes of the season Thursday night when St. Viators comes here for a game.

The visitors always have a good team and this year seems especially strong. Early in the season St. Viators lost a game to Millikin on the Millikin floor, 20 to 18.

Last week Millikin went down to defeat on St. Viators' floor by a score of 45 to 25. So far St. Viators has lost but one game in the Illinois conference and is a strong contender for state honors.

Coach Harmon hopes that the game with Normal will help to get Illinois back in the form she was showing early in the season. If the blue and white squad is going right Thursday night she should give St. Viators' a hot battle.

The game will be called at 8 o'clock and Young of Illinois Wesleyan will be the official. On Saturday night Illinois faces another hard game when Bradley plays here. Bradley has been going strong recently and has a victory over Illinois Wesleyan to her credit. Bradley also upset Illinois last fall in football and Capt. Mellon and his men will try to get revenge for that defeat in the basketball game Saturday evening.

SPAULDING WILL TRY NEW SYSTEM
New Minnesota Coach Will Stress Development of Individual.

By Associated Press.
Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 13.—Development of the individual will be the first point stressed by W. H. Spaulding when he assumes charge of football coaching at the University of Minnesota next fall, in succession to Dr. H. L. Williams.

Spaulding who comes to Minnesota from the directorship of athletics at Western State Normal School, Kalamazoo, Mich., today outlined his tentative plans for Gopher football in a statement to The Associated Press.

"My great personal endeavor," he said, "will be to teach the individual player to block right, tackle right, run with the ball right and forward pass right, and to do these things with every atom of energy that can be stirred up in his system."

"The important idea is not only to drive him hard to do these things, but nothing in the way of intricate play should be attempted until he is able to do these things right."

"Men must perform the requisite individual acts with their bodies against the bodies of their opponents or the most wonderful schemes of attack and defense on paper will fall flat on the field of action."

"Secondly, an endeavor will be made to secure a team punch. Port of that punch comes naturally from thorax drill in fundamentals, but the team as a whole must have drive, fighting quality, and something else—the ability to lift itself to the extra pitch of play needed for a crucial game."

"For my general scheme of attack, I believe in a few plays and fast, hard drill in them. I am not a great hand for anything intricate, feeling there is too much time taken up in working out highly involved plays which more often than not fall flat against a smart defense."

"What we shall strive for is simply, fast, backfield shifting rather than much movement in the line. Much movement to no purpose weakens morale, and nowadays a defensive line shifts fast and intelligently, so that tactical massing of strength to a given point is not so effective."

"The forward pass, I think, must be thoroughly reckoned with as a scoring factor. In my work at Minnesota, I shall devote a great deal of attention to getting skillful execution along this line. Here I believe, the emphasis should be placed on development of the individual doing the work, either passing or receiving, rather than hoping to fool the defense into leaving a spot open."

"Whether the end or a half goes after a pass, he should first have been made a specialist at getting into the clear or grabbing it away from an opponent, and then be enough of a broken field runner to add yards and perhaps a touchdown to the distance covered by the pass."

Mr. Spaulding added that obviously he would seek to develop punting and ability in the ends to cover the punts and the usual hard charging line both on defense and offense.

Knights of Columbus
Turn Tables on Dokays and Win by Score of 21 to 10—Deciding Game to be Played at Liberty Hall Next Monday.

Playing an overtime game the Knights of Columbus turned the tables on the Dokays in the second game of the series for the city championship in Liberty hall Monday night when Devlin tossed a field basket giving his team the victory by a score of 21 to 19.

The game was fast and furious thruout and both teams travelled at top speed. The score at the end of the first half was 12 to 11 in favor of the Dokays.

When the second half started the score seasawed back and forth during the half and when the final whistle sounded the score was 21 to 19.

In the five minute overtime both teams fought to the limit trying to break thru for the point. However Devlin was the only man able to hit the hoop which he did during the closing seconds of the overtime period.

Each team made ten personal and two technical fouls. Carson and Jones both going out on personal fouls. This was unusual for Carson who seldom makes a foul, and Jones also is usually able to go thru a game without many fouls. Harry Cain who is usually over-enthusiastic and makes several personal fouls during a game, played the entire contest without having a foul called on him.

It would be difficult to pick stars on either team. Both teams displaying better team work than in the first game and every man put all he had into the contest. The free throwing of Wood and Devlin was not up to the usual standard. Had either one been right he could have won the game for his team in the regulation period. Each had twelve tries at free throws. Devlin got five out of twelve while Wood only collected three.

The game was witnessed by a crowd of over four hundred spectators and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed thruout.

Following the game Managers Hosp and Siegfried got together to select the place for the deciding game. It was decided by the toss of a coin and Hosp won the choice. The game will be played in Liberty hall next Monday night. An out-of-town official will be secured and the managers of the teams will see Fred Young who officiates at the St. Viators-Illinois game here on Thursday night and endeavor to get his services. Young is one of the best officials in the country and works in many of the big ten conference games. The score:

NEELEYVILLE COUPLE MARRIED YESTERDAY
Miss Elizabeth Rebbe is Bride of John Lovekamp—Will Reside on Farm Near Neeleyville.

Bluffs, Feb. 13.—The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Rebbe and John Lovekamp, both residents of the Neeleyville neighborhood, was solemnized at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rebbe. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Deterding, pastor of the Lutheran church at Neeleyville, and was witnessed by about fifty relatives and friends of the bride and groom.

The young people were attended by Miss Amelia Rebbe and Otto Lovekamp, sister and brother of the bride and groom. Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding supper was served at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents.

Both bride and groom belong to prominent families of the county and are well and favorably known. They will make their home on a farm near Neeleyville, and begin wedded life with the good wishes of a host of friends.

OBSERVE FIFTY-FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Dinwiddie Celebrate Important Anniversary Monday with Turkey Dinner.

Monday was the fifty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Dinwiddie, who reside four miles east of Liberty, and the event was celebrated in a fitting manner. The children and grandchildren of the worthy couple spent the day at their home and at the noon hour enjoyed an elaborate dinner. The menu included turkey and a great many other good things to eat and was greatly enjoyed by all those present. The afternoon was spent in a delightful way, reminiscences having a place in the program.

The following children of Mr. and Mrs. Dinwiddie were present: Mrs. Lloyd Stribling and Mrs. L. R. Anderson, Ashland; Mrs. Dr. Kost, Dixon; Lloyd Dinwiddie, Virginia; A. J. Dinwiddie and F. C. Dinwiddie, residing at home.

Five years ago Mr. and Mrs. Dinwiddie celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, and while yesterday's observance was not on the elaborate scale of the one five years ago, it was an affair of great interest. Mr. and Mrs. Dinwiddie were married at the old Crum homestead east of Arenzville, Mrs. Dinwiddie before her marriage being Miss Ella Crum. They have spent all of their married life except the first year on the farm east of Liberty which is now their home. Mr. Dinwiddie has spent his entire life in Morgan county and is one of the county's best known residents.

H. H. Grote and son, William, of Chapin, were business visitors in the city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Houston have gone to Chicago for a few days' visit.

Can You Depend Upon Your Watch
If a watch is not dependable it is worse than none. If you haven't a watch and want the "time," you get it from a correct source. If you have a watch that "tricky" you sometimes depend on what it says, and—miss that train.

COMMEND U. OF I. ON ITS ACTION
By Associated Press.
URBANA, Ill., Feb. 13.—A resolution adopted by the Western Conference Universities association of Cleveland, commending University of Illinois authorities for their vigorous and unhesitating action in connection with the disbarment of eight university athletes charged with participating in a professional football game, has been received here.

"The future of intercollegiate athletics depends upon the strict enforcement of amateur rules, maintaining high ethical standards in college athletics," says the resolution, a copy of which also was sent to A. A. Staggs, president of the Western Conference.

MAY BE UNABLE TO PLAY BASEBALL
Urbana, Ill., Feb. 13.—Don Peden, captain elect of the University of Illinois 1922 eleven, who was declared ineligible for competition next year because of a year of competition at Lombard College, will probably be unable to play baseball this spring.

Peden suffered an injury to his shoulder during the Ohio-Illinois game. He paid no attention to the injury until he discovered, with the opening of baseball practice, that he was unable to throw overhand.

The tendons which bind the top of the shoulder blade to the ribs were torn away when the shoulder was injured. If these tendons will heal without lengthening, Peden may be able to play again. His shoulder is now in a specially constructed brace.

INCOME TAX FACTS

No. 14.

The revenue act of 1921 authorizes the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and his assistants whose duty it is to see that the law is properly complied with to examine all books, papers, and memoranda bearing upon income tax return, and to examine under oath persons having information in the premises. A new provision of law is that no taxpayer shall be subject to unnecessary examinations, and only one inspection of the taxpayer's book of accounts shall be made for each taxable year unless the taxpayer requests otherwise, or unless the Commissioner, after investigation notifies the taxpayer in writing that an additional inspection is necessary.

The act provides that in the absence of fraud, or miscalculation, the decision of the Commissioner upon any claim presented under or authorized by internal-revenue laws shall not be subject of review by any other administrative officer, employee or agent of the United States.

Written Agreements Binding

Except upon a showing of fraud or malfeasance, an agreement in writing between the taxpayer and the Commissioner as to the amount of taxes due is final and conclusive, and there-for binding upon both parties. The act provides that no suit or proceeding for the recovery of any tax or penalty alleged to have been erroneously or illegally assessed or collected shall be begun before six months from the date of filing (unless the Commissioner renders a decision thereon within that time) nor after the expiration of five years from the date of payment of such tax or penalty.

It is provided also that the amount of income, excess profits and war profits taxes due for the year 1921 and succeeding years shall be determined and assessed by the Commissioner within four years after the return was filed, and the amounts due for prior years within five years after the return was filed unless the Commissioner and the taxpayer consent in writing to a later determination, assessments and collection. Except in the case of a false or fraudulent return or failure to file a required return no suit or proceeding for the collection of such taxes shall be entered after the expiration of five years from the date the return was filed or became due. This provision does not affect proceedings begun at the time of the passage of the revenue act of 1921, November 23, 1921.

The act provides that under certain conditions interest at the rate of one-half per cent a month shall be paid upon claims for abatement and refund of taxes erroneously collected from the date of payment of the tax to the date of allowance of the claim. Taxpayers are no longer invited to submit such claim, but upon audit of the return they will receive a certificate of overassessment and a check in correction of error, or if an assessment is outstanding against the taxpayer for income or excess profits taxes, the overpayment is applied as a credit and the balance immediately refunded.

BASKET BALL INTEREST AT DAVID PRINCE

Before the game staged last night between the Yankees, of the Parochial school, and the Junior High five, the students of the David Prince school held an enthusiastic pep meeting. The assembly was called for the hour after the dismissal of school and the team was called to the platform for speeches. The students practiced yells and got up plenty of pep for the evening's contest.

Just before the game began a fine surprise was sprung on the crowd. The basketball boys appeared on the floor in new athletic suits much to the surprise and pride of the David Prince students. The new suits consisted of khaki trousers and green and white striped jersey sweaters. The money from last night's game will be used to pay for the outfits and they will then become the property of the school. There is a great deal of interest being shown in basketball at the Junior High this year and the new suits to be handed down to next year's team, will serve to perpetuate this enthusiasm.

CLOSING OUT SALE WED., FEBRUARY 15

There will be a closing out sale 3 miles east of Alexander, 4 miles west of New Berlin at Brown's Crossing, commencing at 10.30 promptly. Full line of farming tools and Live Stock of all kinds.

FINE PICTURE AT HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

The last of the series of five films being shown at the High school will be given tonight in the high school auditorium at 7:30. It is probably the best picture which has yet been shown being a dramatization of "The Silver Horde," Rex Beach's gripping story of Alaska and the great Northwest.

It is a two-listed, straight from the shoulder romance and is one of Beach's most powerful stories. It depicts "The Cunning of Wall Street against the Might of the North," and the film version of the story makes the tale even more thrilling and fascinating than the book.

Both the high school students and members of the faculty are hoping that a large number of people will come to see this picture tonight, as it is the last of the series and there is still a considerable amount lacking for the funds necessary to purchase the moving picture machine for the high school.

The picture is of the best type and when seen in any of the movie theatres would cost twenty-five cents, at the least. You can see it at the high school tonight for fifteen. This is your chance to prove your interest in securing a picture machine for the school and insuring the right kind of entertainment for our young people.

Jacksonville Lodge No. 570 A. F. & A. M. will hold a special meeting for work in the M. M. degree on Tuesday, Feb. 14 beginning at 2:00 p. m. Visiting Supper at 6 o'clock.

ATTENDED FUNERAL OF RELATIVE IN IOWA

A number of Morgan county people were in Shenandoah, Iowa, last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Roy Huffine, who passed away Sunday, Feb. 5, at a hospital there. The deceased was the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Smith of this city and a sister of Mrs. Edward Brunk, resident here.

Mrs. Huffine is survived by her husband and three small children, her mother and sister living here and four brothers: Alfred Smith, of Decatur, Iowa; George, of Arcadia; William, of Keokuk, Iowa; and Oscar, of this city. She was born in Texas county, Missouri, May 27, 1883, the family removing to this county two years later. This country continued to be her home until her marriage on May 1, 1912, when she removed to Iowa. Mrs. Huffine is city engineer of Shenandoah.

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS

Inhalant the fumes of turpentine and white lead often weaken the kidneys. Exposure, frequent colds and chills and strains help start the trouble.

If your back aches, if sharp pains strike you in the back when stooping, lifting or working, if rheumatic pains; if the urine is discolored or passages painful and scanty, try Doan's Kidney Pills, so well recommended by men in the painting trade. Here's Jacksonville testimony:

Harry Franz, painter, 410 N. Fayette St., says: "I had a bearing down pain through my back and every time I caught cold it made the trouble worse. When I would bend over I would have such a sharp pain take me across my kidneys that I could hardly straighten up again. My kidneys acted too freely and the secretions contained a reddish powder like brick dust. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Armstrong's Drug Store and used them. They relieved my trouble and I have never found anything as good as Doan's."

BETTER THAN CALUMET

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—these tablets for calumet—are a mild but powerful laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. The colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to let liver and bowel complaints wither. The pleasant little tablets do what calumet does, but have no bad effects. They don't injure the stomach, strong liquids or calumet. They hold of the trouble and quickly get it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calumet sometimes has havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calumet. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "foggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "brighten" the pupils. 15c and 30c

REO SPEED WAGON

Fits Every Business

It is an amazing fact and a high tribute to Reo experience and Reo engineering, that this Speed Wagon has not only invaded but conquered, and today absolutely dominates every field of hauling and carrying and delivering.

Prior to the advent of this Speed Wagon, the work it does today was divided among several widely diversified types and sizes of motor trucks.

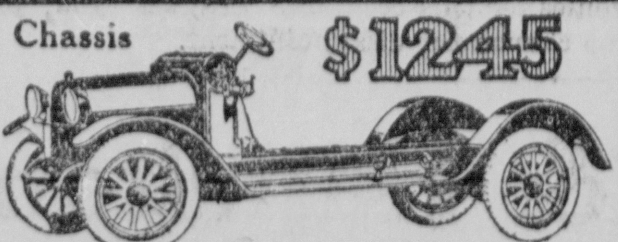

By its wonderful adaptability—its versatility—its ability to cover territory—its absolute dependability and surprisingly low up-keep—this pneumatic tired Reo has gone from one kind of service to another and proven it will do any and all forms of carrying quicker and cheaper.

Men and women, whether you will ever build yourself up to your normal, just-right weight depends on the number of blood-cells in your blood. That's all there is to it. It's a scientific fact. If your blood-cells are low, you're not right, you will be run-down, thin, your blood will be in disorder, and perhaps your face will be broken out with pimples, blackheads and eruptions. S. S. S. keeps your blood-cells working full time. It helps build new blood-cells. That's why S. S. S. builds up thin, run-down people. It puts firm flesh on your bones, it rounds out your face, arms, neck, limbs, the whole body. It puts the "pink" in your cheeks. BIDS FOR GARBAGE DISPOSAL RECEIVED

Show Wide Range of Estimates of Cost—Addition to Filter Plant Needed—Annual Water Department Report Shows Fine Increase.

At the session of the city council Monday night bids were received on garbage disposal contracts, ranging from $5,000 to $8,500. The bids were referred to the public health committee for a recommendation at the next meeting. The council came to order at the usual time with Mayor Crabtree, City Clerk Scott and all members present. Following some routine business, Alderman Elmie of the public health committee, reported a conference of his committee with the county commissioners relative to supplies for families under quarantine. It was agreed that after March 1 the city and the county will take care of the expense for such cases jointly.

Mayor Crabtree made reference to sidewalks and suggested that preparation should be made early for any sidewalk work that it is proposed to have done during this year. Alderman Chapin stated that the city pumping station is now producing a million and a half gallons of water a day and that this is all that can be put thru the filter. He said that it is reasonable to expect an increase of consumption before next summer, and that some steps should be taken for additional filtration.

On motion of Alderman Cain, with a second by Alderman Rowe, the water committee was asked to suggest the addition which should be made to the filtration plant.

Mayor Crabtree reported the favorable action of the board of local improvement with reference to Jordan street and East State street pavement, and said that the board will meet again today to further consider the West College avenue improvement.

Complaint was made that refuse matter was being dumped northeast of the city, near the old Widenham & Daub wells. This complaint was referred to the public health committee.

Water Department Report.

The annual report of W. H. Cobb, for the water department, for the year ending Dec. 31 was read and approved. The council took occasion to commend Mr. Cobb for the excellent work done and the showing made. The report showed an increase in water collections for 1921 by comparison with the year previous of $10,876.69. The figures go to show that with a pure water supply the demand is constantly increasing. The total collected for water and repairs, etc., for 1921 was $55,395.89, the amount collected exclusively for water being $53,857.42. The largest single month's collections was in September when the returns were $5,665.75. The total number of consumers shown by the report was 1,760.

In addition to the figures Supt. Cobb listed repairs and improvements made in the water department, showing where new fire hydrants have been installed, and some additional water connections together with work done on the reservoir.

BIG DELEGATION TO OCEAN TO OCEAN MEET

Jacksonville Sent Largest Representation to Highway Convention—T. M. Tomlinson Elected a State Delegate.

Jacksonville was very largely represented at the Ocean to Ocean highway state convention in Springfield yesterday. More than thirty cars carrying Jacksonville citizens made the trip to the capital city, the passengers numbering at least 125. The 1,000 delegates promised from Hannibal dwindled to 12 and the expected big delegation from Decatur also failed to materialize.

Arrived in Springfield, the Jacksonville members of the Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by the Illinois college band and the DeSilva drum corps, formed in parade and marched to the arsenal to hear the address by General Pershing. The name, "The Pershing Transport Route" has been officially added to the designation of the Ocean to Ocean highway, and this plan yesterday received the official sanction of General Pershing in his arsenal address.

The general spoke briefly but expressed his admiration for the plans which the association is following in developing the great highway. A business meeting of the association was held at 11 o'clock at the Leland and another session in the afternoon. J. D. Clarkson, of St. Joseph, Mo., who is the general manager of the route, made an interesting address at the morning session and in the afternoon his explanation of the plan and expression as to the possibilities of the route added very largely to the interest.

T. M. Tomlinson was named as one of the four delegates to the national convention which will be held in Springfield next week, and the Jacksonville man was also named on the board of directors. The pilot car on the trip to Springfield was driven by W. E. Sullivan, president of the Morgan County Good Roads association. Most of the cars were decorated to indicate that passengers were members of the Chamber of Commerce.

BOY SCOUTS MAKE SPRINGFIELD TRIP

Nearly One Hundred and Fifty Visit State Capital Sunday—Scout Girls Also Go.

Appeal of the Boy Scouts to the people of Jacksonville for transportation to Springfield Sunday, was not in vain. Cars to transport nearly one hundred and fifty Scouts were offered and that number of boys were privileged to go to the capital city to participate in the days exercises commemorating the birth of Abraham Lincoln and the coming of General Pershing and Vice-President Coolidge.

It was a bright eyed, clear faced, happy hearted bunch of boys that made the journey. The cars that transported them reached Springfield in time for the boys to make formation and take the place in the parade that had been reserved for them. It goes without comment that Jacksonville boys made a good appearance.

In addition to participating in the line of march and seeing the notables of the day, the boys were given a sight seeing tour of the historical and interesting landmarks of the Illinois capital. The state arsenal, Oak Ridge cemetery and Lincoln's tomb and monument were visited and the boys were one that will long be remembered by every boy who was privileged to attend.

In addition to the Boy Scouts there were about thirty-five Scout girls who attended the meetings of the day. Also two truck loads of students from the state school for the deaf went over, but they failed to reach Springfield in time for the parade.

The Scouts are all grateful to the persons who so generously aided them in the matter of transportation, and the Scout masters of the various squadrons also feel greatly indebted.

Those providing transportation were: George L. Riggs, George Wiseman, J. A. Paschal, Mrs. Glenn Cannon, William Crum, Donald Houston, Len Magill, E. P. Cleary, Thomas Buckthorpe, L. F. Berger, Mayor Crabtree, C. E. Williamson, Ben Goodhouse, G. H. Smith and the federal bakery. These cars were not sufficient to accommodate all the Scouts and several taxis were commissioned to make the trip.

LIVESTOCK OUTLOOK IS PROMISING

This is View of Earl Williamson East St. Louis Livestock Commission Man.

Earl Williamson, East St. Louis livestock commission merchant, who has been in Jacksonville for a few days' visit, takes a hopeful view of the livestock market. While in this locality Mr. Williamson drove a great many miles thru the country and was impressed with the fact of how few cattle are being fed. In the area between Concord and Franklin he found only a few instances of cattle feeding and said that this seems to be the general condition in cattle feeding territory.

This situation resulted of course because of the uncertainties of the cattle feeding business in the last two years. In 1921 the average man who fed fat cattle lost money and in some cases these losses ran to enormous figures. The result was to bring about timidity and a feeding of uncertainty as to the future.

Mr. Williamson thinks that a shortage of heavy cattle is at hand and that prices are therefore certain to be higher. He believes also that the prices for hogs will continue on a high level because of a general scarcity. That such a scarcity exists is given abundant proof from time to time by the absorption of the heavy livestock runs. Altogether Mr. Williamson believes that better days are at hand for livestock men.

WILL MEET TOMORROW.

The History Class will meet with Mrs. George Merrill Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

VENTUAL PASSAGE F BRITISH DEBT TREASURE ASSURED

ate of Shipping Bill,
However, Seems
More in Doubt

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The eventual passage of the British debt measure by a large majority is conceded, but the shipping bill, fate is more in doubt. Opponents tonight predicted its defeat, either by failure to get before the senate before adjournment of congress March 3, or by emasculation. Some administration leaders, who in the past have been redolent a vote on the shipping bill admitted privately that, as a result of today's developments, the bill appeared doomed. The debt measure occupied most of today's session with extended addresses in its behalf by chairman McCumber of the finance committee and Senator Smoot of Utah, ranking committee Republican and a member of the allied debt commission which negotiated and recommended the British funding agreement. Both declared that it was the best possible to obtain and Smoot said none as favorable could be expected from any other debtor nation.

The British agreement was subjected to a continual fire of inquiry and criticism from the Democratic side, the minority stressing that congress should be given power to pass all future debt arrangements. Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas introduced an amendment to this effect and Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, offered a substitute bill providing for acceptance of the British funding agreement, but without other amendments of the law.

Plans of administration leaders to bring strong pressure for early action on the debt funding bill, with the idea of bringing the shipping bill again before the senate were outlined during the day's struggle. Senator Smoot, given charge of the British debt measure by Senator McCumber, proposed that the senate begin its session tomorrow at 10 o'clock to hasten the debt measure, but Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, and Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, critics of the funding bill, objected and an 11 o'clock meeting hour instead was arranged. Senator Smoot gave notice of a night session tomorrow and said he expected a vote before adjournment.

Supplanting of the shipping bill came as a surprise. The motion to lay it aside was made by Senator Jones, Republican, of Washington, its manager, after Senator King, Democrat, Utah, had wrecked a plan, agreed upon by Republican leaders in conference with President Harding, to have the shipping measure temporarily laid aside for the British funding bill. Senator King refused unanimous consent to the arrangement and Senator Jones then unexpectedly moved to give the British funding bill right of way.

This destroyed the privileged status held by the shipping bill since December 11, when debate was begun. It was conceded to be the most severe setback of the many already suffered by the bill. It can only be brought before the senate again by adoption of a new motion which opponents said they believed they could defeat.

INVESTIGATION OF KIDNAPING ABANDONED

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 13.—Local police officials tonight announced that further investigation of the alleged kidnapping yesterday afternoon of Sister Cecilia, a music teacher at the Notre Dame convent, Frederick, has been temporarily abandoned. They stated, however, that they would resume their hunt for the supposed abductors and the house in which the sister said she was held captive for several hours before she made her escape when the nun has recovered sufficiently to come to this city and aid the authorities.

ENGLISH PARLIAMENT FACES TWO QUESTIONS OF GRAVEST IMPORT

Near East and the Ruhr
Must Be Solved
Soon

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 13.—Parliament reassembled today, with questions of gravest import facing it for future consideration. Premier Bonar Law touched on two of these, the near east and the Ruhr, the first involving relations with Turkey, and the whole Moslem world, and the second having a close bearing on the existing relations between France and Great Britain.

There has been much discussion as to whether the British troops from the Rhine, Mr. Bonar Law said today he hoped it would be possible to retain the troops there but to a large extent that would depend on France and Germany, either of whom could make their retention in German territory impossible.

Withdrawal of the British troops from the Rhine, Mr. Law declared, would be a great misfortune, for that would mean the end of the entente.

The prime minister expressed the belief that there was no danger of war in the near east, although the Turks probably were counting upon "our supposed war weariness."

The usual state ceremonies attended the opening of parliament and the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne attracted much attention. The king's speech emphasized that Great Britain was acting in the Ruhr so as to add to the difficulties of her allies. The hope was expressed that the Turkish problem might be settled amicably.

This sentiment was reported by the prime minister who declared his confidence that Turkey would sign the treaty.

THE DAY'S EVENTS IN WASHINGTON

Announcement was made that President Harding would call another conference of state governors for discussion of prohibition enforcement.

Laying aside the administration shipping bill the senate took up the British debt settlement with projects confident of an early favorable vote.

Secretary Weeks assigned Col. J. A. Hill to arrange for disposal of government war contracts involving more than 150,000 cases.

By a six to five vote the senate judiciary committee reported a motion to defend action on a proposed constitutional amendment regulating child labor.

Favorable report of the house bill proposing combination of the diplomatic and consular services was ordered by the senate foreign relations committee.

It was indicated at the white house that President Harding would recommend appropriation of sufficient funds to conduct a searching inquiry into world production of crude rubber.

Hearings were begun by the house foreign affairs committee on the Porter resolution requesting the president to negotiate with other nations for curtailment of narcotic drug production.

Secretary Hughes in a letter expressed his accord with the object in view.

Opposed by both Republican and Democratic floor leaders the migratory bird bill which proposed establishment of public hunting grounds and game refuges and federal licensing of hunters was killed by the house 94 to 60.

President Harding was said to have approved a governmental reorganization plan including among other changes the consolidation of the war and navy departments.

The senate approved a bill by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, proposing a federal constitutional amendment which would eliminate the session of an old congress election to a new one and would change the date of inauguration of president from March 4 to the third Monday in January.

The shipping board under a resolution by Senator Pomerene, Democrat Ohio, adopted by the senate was called upon for detailed information regarding sales of government ships before March 4, 1921, the beginning of the Harding administration. Information regarding subsequent sales has been furnished.

CONSOLIDATION OF DEPARTMENTS SEEMS ASSURED

Plan to Merge Navy and Army Departments
Is Approved

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—A plan for re-organization of governmental departments and bureaus under which the war and navy departments would be consolidated in a single portfolio designated as "the department of defense" has been given the approval of President Harding, according to high administration officials.

The completed plan was sent to the printer today preparatory to submission to joint congressional committee authorized to consider the changes.

The plan, which contemplates several other changes in the organization of the executive branch of the government is understood to have been approved by the president at a conference. Walter F. Brown, ex-officio chairman of the joint congressional committee on re-organization which was appointed a number of months ago but has not been able to agree on a program. The proposals favored by Mr. Harding are said to have been worked out by Mr. Brown in conference with the president, cabinet members, some of the committee members and certain unofficial experts. The plan, it is understood, will be submitted to the committee by the president as a basis for consideration in an effort to bring its members together on a program of re-organization.

The Brown plan is described as calling for establishment of a new department of education and public welfare with supervision over all educational activities of the government and over all hospitalization facilities including those of the public health service, army, navy and interior department on institutions and possibly the veterans' bureau.

New Department Head
The new department would be headed by a cabinet member reporting directly to the president with an under-secretary in direct charge of each of the two main divisions of education and welfare.

The forestry service which has been the center of much discussion and reported plans for which have led to talk of differences within the cabinet is said to be left under the department of agriculture.

Proposals to divide this service between the agriculture and interior departments have been discussed from time to time due to activities described as overlapping the functions of both departments, but these differences apparently have been smoothed out in the decision not to change the jurisdiction over the service.

Among other changes embodied in the approved plan are transfer of cutter service of the coast guard from the treasury to the navy department, consolidation of the coast guard academy at New London, Conn., with the naval academy at Annapolis, and transfer of the coast patrol and life saving services to the department of commerce.

CHARGES OFFICIAL OF BURNS' AGENCY INSPIRED LETTER

Albert Bailin Continues
His Deposition
for Defense Trial

(By The Associated Press)
Chicago, Feb. 13.—Charges that a letter sent to the postmaster of New York City in October 1920, threatening to kill him and blow up the Woolworth building was inspired by an official of the W. J. Burns detective agency were made today by Albert Bailin, alias Balanow, confessed spy and agent provocateur, continuing his sworn deposition in the defense in the trial of 22 alleged communists at St. Joseph, Mich., February 26.

Balanow, under questioning by Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the defendants, also charged that Charles Souly, head of the radical bureau of the department of justice in New York was in the employ of Burns and sold him secret papers from the files of William J. Flinn, former chief of the department of justice bureau of investigation, which position Burns now occupies.

Taking Balanow's sworn statement was halted shortly before noon when a premature explosion of flashlight powder being used by a newspaper photographer wrecked the office of William Cunnea, socialist candidate for mayor, where the hearing is being held. Miss Ida Silverman, court commissioner before whom the deposition is being made, was seriously injured, the right arm of Nicholas McDonald, the photographer, was blown off, and William Cunnea, Jr., was slightly injured by flying glass.

All the windows were blown out and many valuable papers destroyed. Mr. Walsh Balanow, O. L. Smith, assistant attorney general of Michigan; Charles W. Gore, prosecuting attorney of Berrien county, Michigan; and Max Burger, former department of justice, who were posing for the picture, were so badly shaken it was necessary to postpone the session until tomorrow. It also was feared that some of Balanow's private papers and documents, which were to be used as evidence, had been destroyed.

Balanow, in his testimony, swore that Allen O. Meyer, head of the radical department of the Burns agency, had him, while employed as a Burns operative, to go to the office of the Thiel agency, where he formerly was employed, and write the letter to the New York postmaster on a Thiel typewriter. The letter read:

"Attention. 'We will not tolerate any longer unless you free all the political and industrial prisoners or we will kill you this time for good. We mean business this time all right. We are going to blow up the Woolworth building this time unless you free all the prisoners mentioned here above.

"The nights of the red star. 'American Anarchist fighters, New York.

"Oct 1920."

The letter, Balanow testified, was mailed to the New York postmaster on October 19, 1920. The Burns office in New York is in the Woolworth building.

WOULD SPEED UP SETTLEMENT OF WAR CONTRACTS

Col. J. A. Hill Appointed to Take up This Work

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Secretary Weeks announced today a new plan to expedite settlement of war contracts. He assigned Col. J. A. Hill, who has been acting judge advocate general of the army, to the task of arranging quick settlements for a wholesale disposal of contracts entered into during the war involving more than 150,000 cases.

All contracts previously passed upon by the war claims board will be reviewed and audited under Colonel Hill's supervision. This work was initiated under Secretary Baker and would have required, Secretary Weeks said, another five years to clear the war department books.

Under the new plans it is hoped the delay will be greatly reduced. Honest contractors, some of whom lost rather than profited by the war work, Secretary Weeks said would be the first to receive settlement.

The war secretary said it was his intention to clear all honest contractors of any suspicion as well as to discover those cases in which evidence of fraud might be found. Wherever suspicion of fraud was found, he added, the papers would be submitted to the department of justice for appropriate action there.

Reviews and audits of cases already passed upon by the war claims board for settlement, Secretary Weeks explained had resulted in a return to the government of about $15,000,000 including the recently adjusted Lincoln Motors case.

COLDEST WEATHER OF THE WINTER IS PREDICTED TODAY

Cold Wave Expected to Cover Entire Middle West

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—A blinding snow storm which today slowed up traffic and spread a white cover several inches in depth over the city, marked the beginning of what the weather bureau predicted would be the coldest weather of the winter.

Shortly after dusk the snow abated and a frigid northwest wind sent the mercury down in a drop that was expected to continue until it touched 10 or 15 degrees below zero Thursday when the crest of the wave will be reached.

The drop in temperature at Chicago was expected to be a forerunner of similar conditions throughout the middle west. The cold wave was reported to be rushing upon Chicago from the upper Mississippi valley from the Rockies and the Canadian northwest.

Predictions were that it would envelop the western lake region and the western portion of the Ohio valley by tomorrow and would be accompanied by high winds.

ARCADY

By Berton Braley

THERE'S many a road to Arcady,
For it isn't a realm defined
By sharp and accurate boundary,
It's a state of the heart and mind;
And the path that to my Arcady seems strange,
Except when you understand
The varied routes that a man may range
To get to that joyous land.

I START on my trip to Arcady
In a closely packed subway train,
Instead of sauntering blithe and free
The turf of a fairy lane;
Then I walk ten blocks through the noisy street,
A cluttered-up thoroughfare,
But I know at the end of my walk I'll greet
My Arcady waiting there.

I CLIMB four flights and I take my key
And open the dingy door
And—there is my pleasant Arcady
With riches of joy in store;
A place with happiness glorified,
For I might have told you that
I find my Arcady inside
The walls of a city flat.

A STATE HARD ROAD COMMISSION.

The idea of a state hard road commission may be new to most people; but in view of the fact that much of the business of government is now vested in commissions, the establishment of such a commission is not improbable. The main purposes of such a body would be to take the building of hard roads out of politics. The distribution of hard roads over the state should be according to the traffic needs, according to advocates. A hard road commission would make a scientific study of traffic conditions and use the findings as a guide to placing the roads where they would be most useful and building them in the order of their importance in the traffic system.

THE SPRING BOOM IN JACKSONVILLE.

This city is to enjoy during the spring and summer a building boom, which will furnish employment to scores of men. The erection of the large Cloverleaf building and the new Elliott State bank will begin in the near future. The buildings on the south side of the square must be finished; the remodeling of the Scott block into an up-to-date office building for physicians and surgeons is certain to start at no distant date, a new hotel building is a new certainty. Even now workmen in other places are looking toward Jacksonville as a possible scene of employment for several months to come.

It is understood, also that several citizens are contemplating the erection of new homes this spring. Increased building activity brings increase in business to the merchant, which in turn adds to the prosperity of the city.

MATRIMONY

Wesley C. Blunson and Miss Lois Shaffer of Frankfort, Indiana, will interest the many friends of Mr. Blunson in this city. The ceremony took place in January in Paris, Illinois, and Mr. and Mrs. Blunson are now living in Frankfort.

For the last four or five years, Mr. Blunson has traveled for the Capewell Horseshoe Nail company, and made Jacksonville his headquarters, living at the Pacific. He was a member of the local chapter of the American Legion, and has a wide circle of acquaintances in this city.

OLD JACKSONVILLE SOME WEATHER

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)

Member Illinois State Historical Society

NOTE: In last week's "O. J." it was stated that Dr. A. T. Norton's "History of the Presbyterian in Illinois" was regarding the region "North of the Wabash Railway." It should have read "South of the Wabash Railway."

The "Weather Breeder," now prevalent with us indicates that something colder will be "broadcast" over our prairie land Wednesday.

There has been a whole lot of weather thrown around over these prairies since the White Man seized the Red Man's game preserves and corn patches.

Not long since, at a socio-literary meet here, the "O. J." man said our coldest weather ever was in 1873, and gave (Rev.) Charlie Morrison's quotation from his (Morrison's) diary as corroborating the statement, which was challenged by another descendant of early settlers, who said it was in 1872.

In 1899, somebody wrote to the Joliet Herald about some cold weather in 1855.

The writer said in part: "One of the severest storms x x x was that which occurred Jan. 25, 1855."

On that day a train, on what was called the Chicago & Mississippi Railroad, now the Alton, left Chicago for Springfield. The train was a special, carrying the members of the legislature and other officials to the state capital. There were nearly 350 persons on the train, several of whom were women. It had snowed for twenty-four hours before, but the train experienced but little difficulty until it reached Dwight, which was then a small station, out on the Grand Prairie. Just near the station was a deep cut, which was completely filled with snow. The train ran into the drift and stuck fast. Every effort was made to get it out but all of them failed, so the engine froze and there, of course, all hope of going ahead or backing out of the drift was abandoned. The train remained there in the drift for six days and nights. The weather was exceedingly cold and with no fuel of any kind within several miles, and no provisions whatever, except a few cans of oysters and a few pounds of crackers.

They were compelled to cut up and burn the seats in the cars, and they burned the whole of two second class coaches for fuel, and even then the passengers suffered.

A Chicago paper said: "The winter of 1884-5 is remarkable not only for its general weather, but for its varieties. The Manitoba waves x x x have given us different aspects every week but none more remarkable than the displays of the last two days (Feb. 11, 1885). Two storms seem to have started from the same general point and to have traveled the same general direction. One swept thru the north-west, and was in the nature of a violent blizzard of wind and snow, followed by a degree of cold which, in Chicago, showed a drop of from 20 degrees above to 20 degrees below.

The other storm was marked by astonishing electric displays, and travelled more to the south of us, being heard of in Southern Illinois, and Indiana, and Northern Kentucky both storms, however being followed by a corresponding drop in temperature. As far south as Jackson, Miss., the mercury fell from 70 degrees to 32 degrees. x x x The southern storm was one of rain, hail and sleet, accompanied by heavy thunder and vivid lightning, which also appeared in the snow storm in some places further north as Jacksonville, Centralia, and even as far north as Kankakee x x x At more than one place in this state the red sky appeared nearly all night. The displays frightened people in places. This winter had probably the most zero days, or below, of any.

Some Pioneer History

FROM MANUSCRIPTS OF FRANK J. HEINL
compiling this story of a century ago errors may have crept in and important facts may have been omitted. Suggestions and corrections will be acceptable.

The Kelloggs' cabins had an uncomfortable experience with a prairie fire. One afternoon Kelloggs and Charles Colving decided to stop on the prairie, set to, and soon two cabins and prepared for winter. Before the pioneers their cabins, their families camp had been burned off and into this the mothers rushed their children, goods, wagons and animals, just in time to escape the flames which encircled them and were almost suffocated by smoke. Very soon after the fire had passed on, the fathers, frantic with apprehension for their families, returned to find their people and belongings safe. The relation of this circumstance does not indicate the origin of the fire, perhaps it was started by the Indians who wished to destroy or drive off the white settlers.

The winter of 1819-20 proved to be a severe one. Away from neighbors where they could secure supplies, the pioneers had to go to Edwardsville for corn and then bring it home and pound it in the hominy block, then boil it and eat it with water for sauce. The Kelloggs were not hunters, but once in a while they got a little meat from a passing Indian.

Isaac Fort Roe.
In January, 1820, the Kelloggs entertained three explorers, from New York, David Borden, George Nixon and Isaac Fort Roe, representatives of the New York Emigration Society. From the Kelloggs' cabins these three explorers started westerly, entered the grove southwest of the present Jacksonville and named it Diamond Grove, continued west to the camp just made by Stephen Olmstead at the base of Olmstead's, now called Allinson's Mound and then started for the mouth of the Manuaisterre. Twenty inches of snow was too much for the explorers and they soon turned back and started for Edwardsville. Isaac Fort Roe soon returned to Diamond Grove to establish a home and welcome such friends as might be induced to come from New York.

Early in the spring, Charles Collins returned to Edwardsville with his team and wagon and brought his father and the rest of the family to Morgan county.

The exact locations of the cabins erected by the Kelloggs in 1819 are not known. They were squatters, had no titles to the lands they located on, and no record remains of their locations. As each probably intended to claim as large a tract of land as possible, they would not locate close together.

Apparently Seymour's cabin was on the north and Elsha's on the south side of the north fork of Manuaisterre creek. We do know that the cabins were within a few miles of the present Antioch church.

The Deaton Settlement.
The Kelloggs lived in the cabins on the North Fork of the Manuaisterre for two or three years and then moved down the creek to the Deaton settlement which was located along the Manuaisterre creek between the present county farm and the present Jacksonville extending westward for several miles and, perhaps, eastward a mile or two.

James Deaton located a half or three quarters of a mile west of the present James school house about 1820 and was soon joined by others. The first settlers raised considerable crops of cotton and a gin was operated by Abram Johnson on the farm now owned by Dr. Grace Dewey. In 1823, James Deaton erected a horse-power corn mill.

Cotton Crops.
After the Kelloggs removed to the Deaton settlement they raised a crop or two of corn and cotton. While they constructed a large prairie or canoe and paddled a cargo of cotton to St. Louis.

Elsha Kellogg's home was at or near Gravel Springs. Seymour Kellogg did not enter or acquire any lands in the Deaton settlement or elsewhere within the limits of the present Morgan county. It seems to have been more of a business man or trader than was Elsha and less inclined to farming. He was a man of affairs, as he was elected one of the county commissioners of the newly created Greene county in 1821 and in 1823 when Morgan county was created he was one of its first county commissioners and justices of the peace.

We are not advised as to the whereabouts of Ambrose Collins and his family during these few years, but, judging from later events, it is most probable that the Collins were located near the Kelloggs.

FUNERAL OF WHITE

HALL RESIDENT TODAY

Remains of Mrs. W. S. Strang to be laid to rest this afternoon

White Hall, Feb. 13.—The funeral of Mrs. W. S. Strang will be held at 2:30 Thursday afternoon from the Presbyterian church. The services will be in charge of the Eastern Star order, and the sermon will be delivered by Rev. Lee A. Hanchett.

Burial will be in White Hall cemetery.

The death of Mrs. Strang occurred at 10:30 Sunday night in her home on West Bridgeport street, where she had been ill since the death of her sister, Mrs. W. S. Pearce, at Manchester, who died on the 30th ult. Coming home on the following Friday Mrs. Strang took ill, and for the few days prior to her death she was in an unconscious state. Pneumonia is given as the cause.

Mrs. Strang was a native of Manchester, her maiden name being Jennie Greene, daughter of Cyrus Greene, the family consisting of two sons and four daughters, of whom the survivors are E. M. Greene of Chicago, Mrs. Alice Wallis, and Mrs. R. H. Walton of Manchester. Our subject was born September 29, 1865, she being 57 years of age last September.

On October 30, 1882, she and W. S. Strang were married, and practically their entire married life has been spent at White Hall. The husband and three daughters survive, the latter being Miss Ollie and Nellie and Mrs. H. C. Price. Miss Ollie is located in St. Louis, and Miss Nellie is the efficient librarian of the White Hall public library. Mrs. Price resides just west of town.

Mrs. Strang was a member of the Eastern Star, Pythian Sisters and Round Table, serving the first named as treasurer. Our subject was a woman of commanding personality and worth.

GREENE COUNTY FARM

BUREAU SEEKS MEMBERS

Meeting in Interest of Securing Members Planned By Farm Bureau For Tomorrow.

White Hall, Feb. 13.—Norman Davis, chairman of the committee to boost the Greene County Farm Bureau membership to maximum, stated today that arrangements are complete for a meeting in the city hall in White Hall Thursday for that purpose. V. Vaniman of Virden, representing the extension department, will conduct a school of instruction in the elements of the farm bureau activities and its importance to the farm industry, together with its accomplishments.

The morning session will be held in the city hall, and dinner will be served in the M. E. church where a musical program will be carried out by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Littleton. It is planned to continue the afternoon session at this church, as it is anticipated that there will be a goodly attendance in the move to restore the membership in the county to what it should be.

At night there will be an illustrated lecture in the M. E. church, showing the 1922 Passion Play at Oberammergau. Those acquainted with this world famous production understand that it is produced once in ten years, and here is afforded the opportunity to witness the 1922 production at second hand.

WILL CONSIDER

Y. M. C. A. AFFAIRS

Conference Called by Directors Will be Held at Public Library Tonight—Public Invited.

A conference has been called by directors of the Y. M. C. A. which will be held at the public library tonight. At this time representatives of various Jacksonville interests will be present to discuss with the directors general matters relating to the organization.

A. M. Mayer of Decatur, who is district Y. M. C. A. secretary, will be present for this conference. As it is quite generally understood, the Y. M. C. A. is still maintained in the Cherry apartments.

The association owns property on West State street adjoining Grace church, and one of the important questions for decision is with reference to the immediate course that the association should take.

Some of those interested in the matter believe that a secretary should be employed, the work of the organization pushed and a definite movement started for the erection of a building. Still others have the feeling that this is not the time to inaugurate a new building enterprise. These and various other matters will be discussed frankly at the conference which is to be held tonight.

The meeting is open to the public and all persons interested are invited to attend. Invitations by letter have been sent to Y. M. C. A. directors, pastors, executive heads of public schools, the mayor of the city, representatives of the men's luncheon clubs, farm bureau representatives, the Woman's club, president and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, presidents of the Parent-Teacher associations, president of the Hi-Y club, commander of the American Legion, and newspaper representatives.

WILL VISIT CHURCHES IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

By Arthur Hungerford.
Washington, Feb. 13.—Plans for a great Protestant Pilgrimage to Europe next summer were announced today. Descendants of Huguenot, Walloon, and Dutch settlers in this country will visit the great Protestant centers of Europe in a united tour which is being arranged by the Huguenot-Walloon New Netherland Tercentenary commission appointed by the federal council of churches to make arrangements for celebrating the three-hundredth anniversary of the settlement of New Netherland, which embraced the region between the Delaware and Connecticut rivers, including New York City.

The Protestant churches regard the settlement of New Netherland by Huguenot and Walloon refugees under the Dutch West India company as a matter of great religious significance and one that has influenced this country greatly.
Though the plans call particularly for representatives from the important Huguenot-Walloon and

Dutch settlements in this country provision is also being made for each state to send representatives and it is believed that nearly every city in the country will be represented.
Though the tour is preliminary to the celebration in 1924 of the three hundredth anniversary of the settlement of New Netherland, it is also intended to call attention to the Huguenot and Protestant refugee settlements in North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, and Pennsylvania. The commission is desirous of emphasizing the racial stocks which those people contributed to the settlement of America.

In this connection, it was pointed out that General Pershing is a descendant of French Huguenots, that Gifford Pinchot, the governor of Pennsylvania, and the DuPont family of Delaware are also descendants of these early settlers.

One of the objects of the tour is to create closer friendship between America and the various countries of Europe. It is believed that such visits, with the acknowledgment of the debt owed Europe in connection with the early settlements in this country will do much to create international good will.

Another object is to show the close ties existing between the Protestant churches of Europe and America. The churches of Europe are hard pushed at this time. All are suffering as a result of the war and the economic depression that has followed. In fact, many of them are in dire distress. The American churches have done a great deal for them and are planning to do more through the commission on relations with the churches of France and Belgium, appointed by the federal council of churches. Few rebuilt churches have been dedicated when the tourists visit them. Aid has been given to the French missionary societies which took over good deal of the German missionary work. Help and encouragement has been given to the churches in Germany and Austria and Italy and other countries.

The tour will start early in July and end in September. The arrangements are being made by Dr. John Baer Stoudt, director of the Huguenot-Walloon New Netherland Tercentenary commission, and Dr. Charles S. Macfarland, general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches.

HAS REAL JOURNAL FOR OVER 50 YEARS

James Cunningham was a visitor in Jacksonville yesterday and while in the Journal office mentioned the fact that he has been a subscriber to this paper for fifty-two years. There are very few residents of the county who have been Journal subscribers for such a long period of years. The Journal would be glad to hear from any reader whose record approaches that of Mr. Cunningham.
For a period of years Mr. Cunningham lived in Jacksonville but the greater part of his life has been spent at the comfortable farm home that he now occupies about six miles east of Jacksonville. He is strictly accounted one of the most substantial citizens of the county.

POINCARÉ OUTSTRIPS HIS ABLE INTERPRETER

Paris—Premier Poincaré spoke for one solid hour, during his criticism of the British plan, on the last day of the Paris Conference which ended in the break between England and France.

He seemed not at all tired by his effort and was going on at a rapid rate when one of his hearers suddenly requested a ten minute respite, "owing to great fatigue."

He proved to be the official interpreter, M. Camerlynck, who, as soon as M. Poincaré's flow of oratory subsided, faltered, asked for a glass of water, and dropped into a chair.

"This is one of the hardest tasks I have ever attempted," Camerlynck said later. He had been interpreter at all the Supreme Councils since the Armistice.

DOKAYS NOSED OUT BY MYERS BROTHERS

Locals Lose Heart Breaking Contest by Score of 18 to 17—Visitors Score Winning Basket as Second Half Nears Close.

In a heart breaking contest the Dokays were nosed out by Myers Brothers quintet of Springfield in David Prince gym Tuesday night by a score of 18 to 17.

Up to the last few minutes of play the Dokays were leading by one point. Then Myers Brothers got in a long shot and took the lead by a one point margin. Though the Dokays fought hard they were unable to overcome the lead and the final whistle found them on the short end of the score.

The game was a speedy one throughout, especially in the second half when both teams fought for all they were worth. The visitors who had a nifty team which also was in good condition and displayed excellent teamwork, took the lead at the start when Parkinson dropped in two field goals in the first few minutes play. At the quarter the score was 5 to 2 in favor of Myers and at the half they still led by a score of 12 to 10.

When the second half started Jones took Smith's place at center and he immediately put some speed in the play. The Dokays tied the score with a field basket and thereafter the score was tied and untied several times as the teams fought for victory. The Dokays finally took the lead with a free throw and looked to have the game won until Springfield dropped in the final basket.

The Dokay forwards were badly off in their shooting. Kennedy usually a reliable shot was unable to locate the hoop making but one basket. Wood made three baskets and dropped in the five from the foul line. The locals had enough chances to win the game had their eyes been on the basket.

Springfield was little better, though they did not have as many easy chances as the Dokays. Most of their shots were long ones and Parkinson made three of them.

BAN KNOWS NOTHING OF NEW LEAGUE

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—President Ban Johnson of the American League expressed surprise tonight when informed of the organization of the new eight club league which, according to reports, would be backed by the major leagues.

"This is the first I've heard of it," he said.

The American League, he added, would not subscribe to any plan to pool its surplus players and distribute them among the clubs of the new organization. The clubs will be established, it was said, in Toronto and Montreal, Canada; Buffalo, Newark, Baltimore, Brooklyn, Washington and Providence.

The 16 major league clubs, according to the plan, will pool the players each, giving each team in the new circuit a nucleus of twenty players for the 1923 season. It is proposed to name the new circuit the Continental League.

SHORTHORN SALE AT WM. HASENKAMP FARM

Number of Purchased Shorthorn Cattle Sold at Public Auction Tuesday at Farm Near Merritt

William Hasenkamp's first annual public sale of the White Walnut farm herd of Shorthorn took place Feb. 13 at the owner's farm a mile and a quarter northwest of Merritt. J. L. Henry and C. Justus Wright of this city were the auctioneers; Merle Bedingfield being unable to attend on account of illness. J. A. Knoepfel was the clerk.

After a fair sized crowd was present, the inclemency of the weather and the bad condition of the roads kept many prospective buyers from attending, this being especially true of those living at a distance.

The sale was held underneath a large canvas tent. At times the wind, which blew continuously while the sale was in progress, threatened to tear the tent down and made the task of the auctioneers doubly difficult. A good lunch was served at noon by the Willing Workers Society of the Lutheran church at Neelyville. A list of the animals and the purchasers is given below:

With the Queen Incubator

Everyone wants big hatches, and the Queen will deliver them. Besides being wonderfully well constructed, in the way of materials and workmanship, the Queen embodies the most scientific principles of artificial incubation.

The Queen is doubly insulated. First there are double walls of California Redwood, forming a dead air space. Second, corrugated cardboard is used between the wooden walls. Proper insulation adds considerable expense to the manufacturing cost, but it is an absolute requirement of a good incubator.

The Queen is the only incubator that carries out the double Redwood wall construction all around, and provides a double wall front, in the way of two separate doors. The outer door is a solid panel of Redwood that is hinged entirely independent of the inner door and is fastened with a sash lock that draws it tight, thus insulating the loss of heat impossible.

The inner door is also of Redwood construction, containing a panel of glass the full length and height of the egg chamber.

Queen Brooders are Good Step-Mothers

They are designed to raise the chicks in all kinds of weather at any time of the year, with complete protection day and night. The heating system gives an abundance of heat, distributed properly, while plenty of fresh air is provided automatically without draughts.

We sell the Queen because we are here to stay and cannot afford to trifle with your eggs. Come in and see how a Queen operates.

WILL VISIT CHURCHES IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

By Arthur Hungerford.
Washington, Feb. 13.—Plans for a great Protestant Pilgrimage to Europe next summer were announced today. Descendants of Huguenot, Walloon, and Dutch settlers in this country will visit the great Protestant centers of Europe in a united tour which is being arranged by the Huguenot-Walloon New Netherland Tercentenary commission appointed by the federal council of churches to make arrangements for celebrating the three-hundredth anniversary of the settlement of New Netherland, which embraced the region between the Delaware and Connecticut rivers, including New York City.

The Protestant churches regard the settlement of New Netherland by Huguenot and Walloon refugees under the Dutch West India company as a matter of great religious significance and one that has influenced this country greatly.

Through the plans call particularly for representatives from the important Huguenot-Walloon and

Dutch settlements in this country provision is also being made for each state to send representatives and it is believed that nearly every city in the country will be represented.

Though the tour is preliminary to the celebration in 1924 of the three hundredth anniversary of the settlement of New Netherland, it is also intended to call attention to the Huguenot and Protestant refugee settlements in North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, and Pennsylvania. The commission is desirous of emphasizing the racial stocks which those people contributed to the settlement of America.

In this connection, it was pointed out that General Pershing is a descendant of French Huguenots, that Gifford Pinchott, the governor of Pennsylvania, and the DuPont family of Delaware are also descendants of these early settlers.

One of the objects of the tour is to create closer friendship between America and the various countries of Europe. It is believed that such visits, with the acknowledgment of the debt owed Europe in connection with the early settlements in this country will do much to create international good will.

Another object is to show the close ties existing between the Protestant churches of Europe and America. The churches of Europe are hard pushed at this time. All are suffering as a result of the war and the economic depression that has followed. In fact, many of them are in dire distress. The American churches have done a great deal for them and are planning to do more through the commission on relations with the churches of France and Belgium, appointed by the federal council of churches. Destroyed churches have few rebuilt and several of them will be dedicated when the tourists visit them. Aid has been given to the French missionary societies which took over good deal of the German missionary work. Help and encouragement has been given to the churches in Germany and Austria and Italy and other countries.

The tour will start early in July and end in September. The arrangements are being made by Dr. John Baer Stouff, director of the Huguenot-Walloon New Netherland Tercentenary commission, and Dr. Charles S. Macfarland, general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches.

HAS REAL JOURNAL FOR OVER 50 YEARS

James Cunningham was a visitor in Jacksonville yesterday and while in the Journal office mentioned the fact that he has been a subscriber to this paper for fifty-two years. There are very few residents of the county who have been Journal subscribers for such a long period of years. The Journal would be glad to hear from any reader whose record approaches that of Mr. Cunningham.

For a period of years Mr. Cunningham lived in Jacksonville but that greater part of his life has been spent at the comfortable farm home that he now occupies about six miles east of Jacksonville. He is rightly accounted one of the most substantial citizens of the county.

POINCARRE OUTSTRIPS HIS ABLE INTERPRETER

Paris—Premier Poincarre spoke for one solid hour, during his criticism of the British plan, on the last day of the Paris Conference which ended in the break between England and France.

He seemed not at all tired by his effort and was going on at a rapid rate when one of his hearers suddenly requested a ten minute respite, "owing to great fatigue."

He proved to be the official interpreter, M. Camerlynch, who, as soon as M. Poincarre's flow of oratory subsided, faltered, asked for a glass of water, and dropped into a chair.

"This is one of the hardest tasks I have ever attempted," Camerlynch said later. He had been interpreter at all the Supreme Councils since the Armistice.

DOKAYS NOSED OUT BY MYERS BROTHERS

Locals Lose Heart Breaking Contest by Score of 18 to 17—Visitors Score Winning Basket as Second Half Nears Close.

In a heart breaking contest the Dokays were nosed out by Myers Brothers quintet of Springfield in David Prince gym Tuesday night by a score of 18 to 17.

Up to the last few minutes of play the Dokays were leading by one point. Then Myers Brothers got in a long shot and took the lead by a one point margin. Though the Dokays fought hard they were unable to overcome the lead and the final whistle found them on the short end of the score.

The game was a speedy one throughout, especially in the second half when both teams fought for all they were worth. The visitors who had a nifty team which also was in good condition and displayed excellent teamwork, took the lead at the start when Parkinson dropped in two field goals in the first few minutes play. At the quarter the score was 5 to 2 in favor of Myers and at the half they still led by a score of 12 to 10.

When the second half started Jones took Smith's place at center and he immediately put some speed in the play. The Dokays tied the score with a field basket and thereafter the score was tied and untied several times as the teams fought for victory. The Dokays finally took the lead with a free throw and looked to have the game won until Springfield dropped in the final basket.

The Dokays forwards were badly off in their shooting. Kennedy usually a reliable shot was unable to locate the hoop making but one basket. Wood made three baskets and dropped in the five from the foul line. The locals had enough chances to win the game had their eyes been on the basket.

Springfield was little better, though they did not have as many easy chances as the Dokays. Most of their shots were long ones and Parkinson made three of them.

BAN KNOWS NOTHING OF NEW LEAGUE

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—President Ban Johnson of the American League expressed surprise tonight when informed of the organization of the new eight club league which, according to reports, would be backed by the major leagues.

"This is the first I've heard of it," he said.

The American League, he added, would not subscribe to any plan to pool its surplus players and distribute them among the clubs of the new organization.

The clubs will be established, it was said, in Toronto and Montreal, Canada; Buffalo, Newark, Baltimore, Brooklyn, Washington and Providence.

The 16 major league clubs, according to the plan, will pool the players each, giving each team in the new circuit a nucleus of twenty players for the 1923 season. It is proposed to name the new circuit the Continental League.

SHORTHORN SALE AT WM. HASENKAMP FARM

Number of Purchased Shorthorn Cattle Sold at Public Auction Tuesday at Farm Near Merritt

William Hasenkamp's first annual public sale of the White Walnut farm herd of Shorthorns took place Feb. 13 at the owner's farm a mile and a quarter northwest of Merritt. J. L. Henry and C. Justus Wright of this city were the auctioneers; Merle Beddingfield being unable to attend on account of illness. J. A. Knoepfel was the clerk.

Altho a fair sized crowd was present, the inclemency of the weather and the bad condition of the roads kept many prospective buyers from attending, this being especially true of those living at a distance.

The sale was held underneath a large canvas tent. With the Queen Incubator

Everyone wants big hatches, and the Queen will deliver them. Besides being wonderfully well constructed, in the way of materials and workmanship, the Queen embodies the most scientific principles of artificial incubation.

The Queen is doubly insulated. First there are double walls of California Redwood, forming a dead air space. Second, corrugated cardboard is used between the wooden walls. Proper insulation adds considerable expense to the manufacturing cost, but it is an absolute requirement of a good incubator.

The Queen is the only incubator that carries out the double Redwood wall construction all around, and provides a double wall front, in the way of two separate doors. The outer door is a solid panel of Redwood that is hinged entirely independent of the inner door and is fastened with a sash lock that draws it tight, thus making the loss of heat impossible.

The inner door is also of Redwood construction, containing a panel of glass the full length and height of the egg chamber.

Queen Brooders are Good Step-Mothers

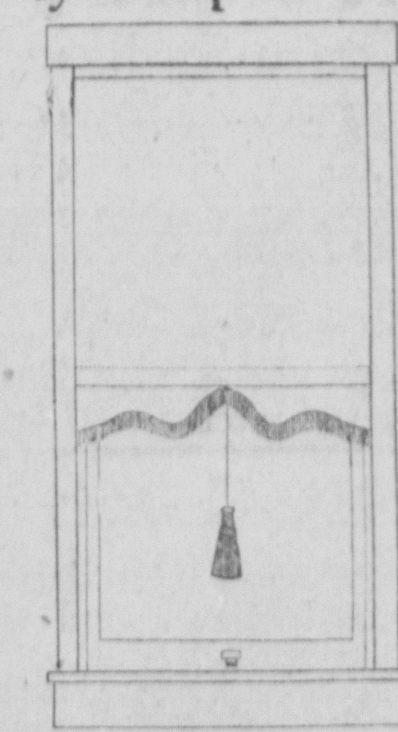

They are designed to raise the chicks in all kinds of weather at any time of the year, with complete protection day and night. The heating system gives an abundance of heat, distributed properly, while plenty of fresh air is provided automatically without draughts.

We sell the Queen because we are here to stay and cannot afford to trifle with your eggs. Come in and see how a Queen operates.

HEARING HAD IN SUIT BROUGHT BY MRS. ZAHN

Alimony and Attorneys' Fees Fixed By Judge Jones Yesterday.

More than usual interest attached to the hearing in the circuit court before Judge Norman Jones yesterday with reference to the application of Mrs. Howard Zahn for temporary alimony and attorney's fees in her suit recently instituted for separate maintenance.

After hearing the argument and evidence, Judge Jones fixed attorneys' fees at $1,000; gave Mrs. Zahn the use of the residence property on Pine street and alimony of $100 per month, the first payment to be made today.

The evidence given suggested very widely differing views as to the value of Mr. Zahn's holdings. The court indicated that his finding as to the amount of alimony was not particularly influenced by the figures given on the value of Mr. Zahn's real and personal property. He said that instead he fixed an amount which would seem to be reasonably adequate to meet Mrs. Zahn's needs, and an amount which could not doubt be paid by the defendant without great difficulty.

Judge Jones said that when the case comes to trial and in the final decision that then all the facts relating to the actual worth of Mr. Zahn could properly be taken into account. The court indicated that more than the usual amount of testimony had been presented by the prosecution and defense in a case of this kind, where the alimony finding is merely intended to bridge over the period until the cause comes to final hearing and decision.

Mrs. Zahn in her bill of complaint sets forth that her husband owns real estate to the value of about $200,000 and has personal property worth $50,000. On the witness stand Mr. Zahn indicated that he considers his net worth about $75,000.

Earl B. Wiswell was a witness for the defense as a real estate expert, giving his views as to the value of the Zahn garage on East Morgan street; the Auto Inn on East Court street, the filling station at the corner of South Main and College streets and his residence on Pine street.

In this proceeding Mrs. Zahn is represented by Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty and W. N. Hairgrove; and Mr. Zahn's attorneys are Walter W. Wright, of this city and William Schlagenhauf of Quincy.

FAR EAST PROVES GOOD ATTRACTION

Was Presented at High School Auditorium Tuesday Evening Under the Auspices of the D. A. R.

Without exception the most attractive and unique entertainment which has come to Jacksonville during the season is "The Far East," presented at the high school auditorium last evening under the auspices of the Reverend James Caldwell Chapter of the D. A. R. There was a large audience and Mr. and Mrs. Ongawa, the Japanese entertainers, held the interest and admiration of each person until the end. Mrs. Barr Brown, regent of the chapter, was in charge of the arrangements for this attraction.

Most effective stage settings and lighting added greatly to the charm of the production. Silken curtains, an idol shrine to Buddha, a Japanese screen, and a brilliant splash of cherry blossoms and corse hangings made up the simple but effective setting. The program was arranged in two parts, the first being a group of songs, dances and folk stories. The weird, fantastic music on the native instruments made up the first number, "The Feast of Lanterns," representing one of Japan's great night festivals. Mr. Ongawa was most interesting in the sword dance, with its strength and vigor of motion.

Mrs. Ongawa won each member of the audience with her grace and charm of personality and the soft, musical intonations of her voice. She was most fascinating in the Butterfly dance when one could imagine "airy fairy" butterflies flying about the stage, as the dancer flitted hither and yon. "Moonlight and Waves" an ancient love song, which originated among the seafaring people of northern Japan, was sung delightfully by Mrs. Ongawa, accompanied by the kokin, or moon fiddle. The beautiful costumes of the players, rich, colorful and gorgeous in design gave a finishing touch to the presentation of the program. The group of folk dances, given by Mr. and Mrs. Ongawa included a comic dance, of two country lovers, grotesque and fantastic in its conception.

The second part of the program was a play "The Fox Woman" given in English. The play is an example of the latest development of dramatic art in Japan and is very realistic in its treatment and theme. The Fox Woman is a cunning red fox which has taken the form of a woman and corresponds to the witch of western countries. The play represented graphically the superstitions and customs of the far east and was most artistically presented by Mr. and Mrs. Ongawa.

WILL OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rawlings is to be observed next Tuesday with a dinner at Durbin church. Mr. and Mrs. Rawlings were for many years residents of that community although they have been living in Denver for several years past. They have just arrived for a visit with their sons and daughters in Morgan county and the event next Tuesday has been arranged as the time for the gathering of members of the family and immediate friends. The occasion promises to be notable in many ways.

HIGH SCHOOL FORUM TO MEET

The forum of the Jacksonville high school will give a program today. It has been outlined as follows:

BILLBOARD EDITOR TO SPEAK IN CITY

Fred High, Student of Business and Professions Will Be Speaker at Kiwanis Open Meeting—Has Vision of New Airship.

Fred High, department editor of the Billboard, vice president of the American Community Association, and president of the International Aero-Exhibit Association will be a speaker in this city soon. He has been engaged to deliver an address at the open meeting of the Kiwanis club, which will be held on Thursday evening, March 1st. Mr. High is a keen student of business and professions and has a vision of what may be done in this country toward building up a permanent civilization safe from war, it only the right kind of airships are developed. The following article written by Mr. High shows how this may be done, and also illustrates the keenness of the intellect of the coming Kiwanis speaker:

With millions of men, women and children starving with many millions out of work, with millions wrangling over pay, hours and conditions of labor; with 10,000,000 brave soldiers filling premature graves and many millions more mourning over the loss of their dear ones, with nations spending many more billions of the peoples' hard earned money preparing for "The Next Great War" and with taxes now piling up so that Nations are bankrupt and peoples everywhere are groaning under the burdens that have been piled upon them, it is time that we should seriously discuss the way out.

History proves that wars follow commercial developments and so we must develop those instrumentalities that serve us best in times of peace and are our greatest defense in times of war.

Can we Americans allow the stain of our $1,000,000,000 aero fizzle and disgrace to be so disheartening as that we are going to allow our own master inventor to pass out of our hands to be used in competition with us in times of peace and against us in times of war?

Encourage Inventors

We have become the greatest nation in the world developing our ideals and encouraging our inventors, manufacturers and producers by our system of county, state, national and international prize awards. Shall we turn our back on this system now?

The first heavier than air ship that will ascend and descend vertically, stand statically, if desired, turn in a radius of its own axis; carry 25 tons in excess of its own weight; fly 200 miles an hour and alight at a speed not to exceed one mile an hour.

The $50,000,000 to be given upon the completion of these facts as a national prize, the money to be appropriated from the U. S. Treasury.

We could build up a new era of transportation which would surpass that developed by the railroads. If the World War has taught us anything, it certainly has taught us the need of promoting these forms of trade and commerce by land, sea and air which could be turned immediately from the ways of peace into the channels of war.

The big battleship and super-dread-naught that cost $50,000,000 to build and are a dead loss or bill of expense at every turn, except when in battle, must be supplanted by a modern unit that can be used in transporting the commerce of the world when not needed as a fighting machine.

The battleship itself is defenseless in a contest with the submarine and airship. If there is one failure that should need no further fizzle, to convince America that it is a failure, it is the Zeppelin dirigible flying machine, and yet our Navy Department is spending millions fooling with these obsolete machines.

America must stand supreme in her self defense but she must achieve this proud position by rendering service to the world.

The world's greatest economists, statesmen, and sociologists with common consent have stated it as their belief that unless the mad race for armament is stopped during the present generation and that civilization will have to be admitted a failure. To prevent the culmination of this tragic finish of the human race America, the bravest, hardiest, most hustling race on earth should give its attention to developing the airship.

ZACHARY CASE GOES TO SCOTT COUNTY

Change of Venue Granted By Judge Jones Tuesday Night—Trial To Be Had at March Term of Court—Judge Smith Will Preside.

Samuel T. Zachary, who is charged with the murder of Luther Crawford, will have his trial in Scott county. A change of venue was granted by Judge Jones at a special session of the Morgan county circuit court held Tuesday night. After hearing the argument presented by counsel, and taking into account the affidavits on file in the case and information gained from other sources, the court announced its decision and stated that it would be possible to send the case to either Scott or Jersey counties.

Judge Jones emphasized the fact that it is the duty of a court to grant a motion for a change of venue when there is any doubt in his mind as to the likelihood of a defendant securing a fair and impartial trial in the locality where the alleged crime was committed.

A regular session of the court will be held in Jersey county in April and in Scott county in March. W. N. Hairgrove as attorney for Mr. Zachary stated that he preferred Jersey county. State's Attorney Robinson expressed a preference for Scott county.

It was the opinion of Judge Jones that it would be better to have the trial in Scott county and he so ordered. It is the expectation therefore that the case will come up for trial at Winchester in the latter part of March, with Judge E. S. Smith presiding.

In the hearing last night W. N. Hairgrove presented the argument in support of the motion for a change of venue and State's Attorney Robinson and W. W. Wright appeared on behalf of the state.

Cites Doubts of Citizens

Judge Jones indicated in giving his decision that he was influenced not only by the argument and evidence presented, but by statements made to him privately by county officers and by other citizens of Jacksonville—statements that raised in his mind the apprehension that it might not be possible for the defendant to secure a fair and impartial trial in this court jurisdiction. Judge Jones said in substance:

"There is no definite or clearly defined rule to govern the action of a court with reference to a change of venue motion. The matter is largely in the discretion of the court. The defendant need not convince the court that he cannot receive a fair trial, but it is sufficient if the facts and the circumstances are such as to raise a reasonable apprehension in the mind of the court that a fair trial cannot be secured in the jurisdiction where in the alleged crime was committed."

The officers in charge of such cases have no higher duty than to see to it that any person charged with crime is given a fair trial. No matter what are the indications of guilt, the officers have the responsibility of seeing that only fair methods are used in the trial of the case.

"A judge may have his own ideas as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant, but such ideas must be set aside and precedence given to the task of seeing that the defendant is given a fair trial such as the constitution guarantees and the law requires."

In concluding his statement Judge Jones said that a judge is naturally inclined to look with some disfavor upon an application for change of venue, for under usual circumstances a trial should be held in the community in which the alleged crime was committed.

But he said that this inclination must not be taken into consideration by a court where there is any reasonable apprehension that a fair trial cannot be had. He commented upon the fact that many affidavits had been filed by the defense in support of the contention that a fair trial cannot be secured here, and that a still larger number of affidavits have been filed indicating that a fair trial can be had.

An Adams County Case

The court referred to the Pfanschmidt case in Adams county, where in a similar proceeding over 2,000 affidavits were filed in behalf of the people and 200 for the defendant. The mere number of affidavits does not control if the court has a feeling that there is some doubt about the possibility of securing an impartial trial.

"This case," said Judge Jones, "cannot be free from certain phases which have been apparent from the beginning. It is a case of more than usual interest. I can see that in addition to all that has been gleaned from the affidavits, from argument and from the press, that more than usual stress attends this case, from comments that have come to me from court officers and from members of the bar, indicating the fear that some violence might be done in this case."

"In such a situation would I be true to myself if I said a reasonable apprehension does not exist as to the possibility of this defendant securing a fair and impartial trial? I am not concerned at this time about the guilt or the innocence of this party, but as to the fairness of the trial."

"I have granted several changes of venue in recent years but I do not grant them freely or quickly, and not without due consideration. I believe in the present instance that a change of venue should be granted."

Miss Mary Woodall of Winchester spent Tuesday in Jacksonville visiting with friends.

Plans are under way for the tryout of debaters for the two local high school teams which will take part in the tri-city debate with Quincy and Springfield. A large number of students are intending to try out for the teams.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK AT I. W. C.

A fire prevention week is being observed this week at Illinois Woman's college and demonstrations in the causes, prevention, and means of extinguishing fires are to be given at the chapel exercises during the week. The first demonstration was given Tuesday morning by A. C. Metcalf, assisted by Edward Wackler, Frank Ham and others.

The college management is attempting to impress upon the minds of the students, the fact that carelessness may easily lead to disastrous fires. The demonstration showed yesterday how fires may result from spontaneous combustion when oily rags are thoughtlessly left around. Window curtains catching fire from candles left burning in the dormitory rooms was also graphically portrayed. How short circuits, if not reported to the management can lead to fires, was shown by the use of a battery containing a short circuit. These demonstrations were made on the platform of the college chapel and they impressed on the students, as no mere talk could possibly do, the great dangers of carelessness. Other demonstrations will be made during the week and the students will be taught how to use the fire apparatus with which the college is now equipped.

What Does It Mean to 'Have Your Block Ground'

The inside of your motor is as delicate as the inside of the human body.

A few particles of foreign matter left inside will often start total destruction of the engine.

We wash each part thoroughly and we use great care in assembly in order that the car will stand up and give the mileage built into it.

Main shaft alignment is very important, second only to the cylinders. The tendency is to spring out of line in the center bearing and wear out of round on the crank pins. In order to overcome this wear and make like new, the shaft must be refinished. This delicate and exact machine work is also performed on a grinder. This machine is more complicated than the cylinder grinder.

The Human Factor in Industrial Efficiency

DURING the past two years the number of accidents in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) organization has been reduced 80%. This splendid result has been brought about through intelligent co-operation of employees. The saving in life, efficiency, and money cannot be computed.

The fact that the Company has been able to secure whole-hearted co-operation is the reason for the complete success of the safety plan, and is a very significant fact in connection with all this Company's enterprises.

During the first year after the plan was adopted, over 97% of the safety suggestions made by employees were adopted. Mechanical safeguards were greatly extended, and a system of education was carried on whereby in numerous instances the habits of the employees were changed. Thoughtfulness was substituted for thoughtlessness.

This campaign with its remarkable achievement of 80% decrease in accidents is of definite interest to 30 million people in 10 Middle Western States.

Safety in occupation promotes efficiency of the worker at his task, and makes him a better citizen. The employee who realizes the fact that his safety is being looked after at every turn is free to give his entire attention to his duties.

In any industry the human factor is the key to efficiency. The man who is content, well paid, assured of his future, and safe from injury, may be depended upon to give his best effort to his work. He is more productive; he is more content; he is prouder of his work.

Thus by safeguarding the welfare of the worker, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) takes the initial step towards harmony within the organization, which enables the Company to produce annually a tremendous volume of petroleum products of uniform quality, which are such essential factors in promoting commercial progress and domestic happiness.

CONCORD AND CHAPIN S. S. CONTEST ENDS

Concord M. P. S. S. Entertains Chapin S. S. Winner in Contest Just Closed.

Chapin, Ill. Feb. 12.—As the result of a very close contest between Sunday schools, the Concord Methodist Protestant Sunday school gave the Chapin M. P. Sunday school a chicken dinner last Sunday at one o'clock. The menu consisted of baked chicken, dressing, mashed potatoes with gravy, baked beans, slaw, bread, butter and strawberry preserves, pickles, coffee, pie and cake. The dinner was served in the basement of the Concord M. E. church.

After dinner, at the M. P. church, the Rev. Frederick J. Ray, president of the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Protestant church and a former pastor at Chapin, gave a very interesting address on the necessity of home and Sunday school religious training of children, following a violin solo by Mrs. A. C. Bolle of Jacksonville.

The contest, which was figured on a percentage basis and gave Chapin the victory by only about one and one-half percent, resulted in a large increase of attendance for both schools. Concord, which had an average of 67 for the earlier part of the year, had an average of 102 during the contest while Chapin, whose average had been only 47, had an average of 73. The largest attendance for both schools was on the last Sunday of the contest with 162 present at Concord and 156 at Chapin. Concord said they went out and "shook the bushes" for their, but Chapin had not only "shook the bushes" for themselves but had Uncle Sam shaking them for the last three weeks of the contest. A perfect attendance for all ten Sundays of the contest counted ten extra points for either school, and in this Concord was very much ahead, having thirty-three regular attendants while Chapin had only eighteen. Reports of attendance were given by telephone each Sunday in order that the schools might know their standing before school was dismissed, and it was rather amusing to hear the exclamations which the reports brought forth.

Both schools were very much pleased with the contest and believe they are going to get much permanent good from it in the way of new regular attendants.

INCOME TAX FACTS

No. 15.
Bad debts constitute a considerable item in the returns of many taxpayers and may be treated in one of two ways (1) by a deduction from income in respect of debts ascertained to be worthless in whole or in part, or (2) by a deduction from income of an addition to a reserve for bad debts. When satisfied that a debt is recoverable only in part, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may allow such a debt to be charged off in part. Partial deductions are allowed with respect to specific debts only. The taxpayer must be able to show with a reasonable degree of certainty the part that is uncollectible.

When a taxpayer, as a matter of established business practice, sets up annually a reserve for bad debts, reasonable additions to such reserve during the year, in the discretion of the commissioner, may be deducted. In such case, debts written off on the books of a taxpayer must be charged against the reserve, and must not be claimed as a deduction from gross income unless the debt was outstanding on December 31, 1920.

Taxpayers who adopted either of the two methods for the year 1921 must use the same method for the year 1922, unless permission to change is obtained from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

A taxpayer using the reserve method should include in his return a statement showing the volume of his charge sales (or other business transactions) for the year, the percentage of such reserve to such amounts, the total amount of notes and accounts receivable at the beginning and end of the taxable year, and the amount of debts ascertained to be worthless or partially worthless and charged off against the reserve account during the taxable year.

Bad debts can be deducted only for the year in which they are ascertained to be worthless and charged off the books of the taxpayer. The taxpayer should attach to his return a statement showing the propriety of any deduction claimed for a debt.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Speculators for the advance succeeded in bringing about another sharp upturn in prices in today's stock market the strongest and most active of the year. Foreign developments again were ignored.

Prices of industrial issues moving to new high levels for the year on another series of constructive trade developments which included an advance of more than one cent a pound in the price of Cuban raw sugar and the publication of several favorable 1922 earnings reports.

Marking up of the call money rate to six per cent in the last hour, as against a renewal of 10 per cent apparently reflected heavy government withdrawals.

Business was quiet with brokers offering 4 1/2 per cent and bankers demanding five for all maturities.

Feature of the foreign exchange market was the rise in the Berlin rate from .0025 to .0039 cents in further reflection of speculative covering. Demand sterling sold just above $4.68 and francs sold around 6.11 cents.

Active United States government bonds gained 2 to 12 cents on 100 in reflection of official reports that new government financing was contemplated before March 15.

Does the Tax-Collector call at night?

The tax which nobody can afford to pay is the tax which is assessed against health.

When nerves are a-jangle and the night's rest is disturbed, health is paying a tax which cannot safely be continued.

People who drink coffee and tea often find there's a tax to pay for the nerve-stimulation they've had from the drug, caffeine, which coffee and tea contain. Night-time restlessness, daytime drowsiness, nervous irritation and headaches are common forms of the first payments.

There's an easy and delightful way to avoid the tax, through Postum instead of coffee or tea. Postum is fully satisfying to taste, with all the comfort and pleasing flavor which a hot, mealtime beverage can give—and without any possibility of harm to nerves or digestion. As many cups as you like with any meal.

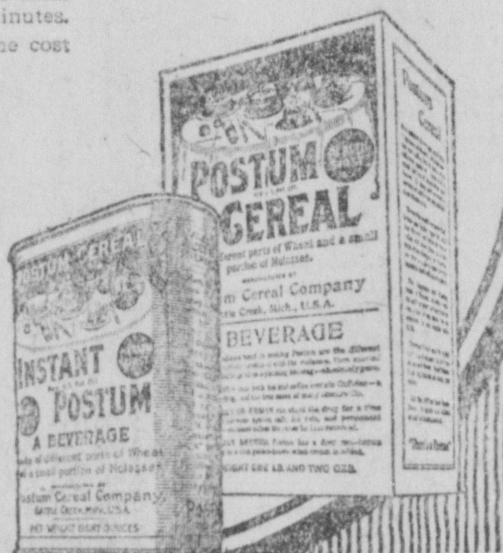

It would be wise for you to stop tax-payments to the coffee and tea drug, and enjoy the kindness and comfort of Postum. Begin today, with an order to your grocer.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages), for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes. The two forms are equally delicious; and the cost is only about 1/2c per cup.
